Tax rates plummet

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Property tax rates will drop sharply for many Quad-Cityans—especially Madisonians, whose rate for this summer's collection will plummet 98.3 cents to $1.06 on each $100 of assessed valuation.

City Comptroller Al Hudzik said Saturday that—with utility taxes becoming a major revenue source for Madison—the city levied only library expenses, playgrounds, pensions and liability insurance. It omitted general, street, garbage, lighting, police and fire taxes.

"If our valuation had remained $12 million, we expected the $2.04 rate to drop 40 percent to $1.24. The additional 16-cent rate decrease stems from a 1.16 multiplier which increased the assessment total to $14 million," Hudzik noted.

Also falling, County Clerk Evelyn Bowles said Saturday, are the rates for:

- Madison schools, down 25.5 cents.
- Special Service Area 1 sewers, down 17.2 cents.
- City of Granite City, down 15.2 cents.
- Metro East sanitary district, down 10.7 cents.

- Chouteau township, down 6.4 cents.
- City of Venice, down 5.5 cents.
- Granite City township, down 5 cents.
- Venice schools, down 4.8 cents.
- Chouteau roads, down 4.4 cents.
- County government, down 3.5 cents.
- Granite City parks, down 2.3 cents.
- State Park fire district, down 1.6 cent.
- Bellefonte Area College, down 1.4 cent.
- Nameoki roads, down 1.2 cent.
- Venice town roads, down 1.1 cent.

Arrest 2 juveniles in Mitchell home invasion

Madison County authorities plan to file a petition in Madison County Circuit Court asking that a 16-year-old Mitchell boy be certified to stand trial as an adult and face charges stemming from a home invasion in Mitchell about 1 a.m. Friday.

Laura Whitkamp, 81, of the 800 block of East Chain of Rocks Road, told deputies she was alone and asleep in her home when a boy and a girl forced their way in through a window and one of them struck her several times.

The couple then stole about $60 to $70 in cash, a portable television set, a few items of jewelry and her car keys from the home, loaded the items into her car, cut the telephone wires to the house and drove away in her car, she said.

She ran to a neighbor's home and telephoned the Madison County Sheriff's Department, giving them a description of her car and the license number.

A deputy on patrol approximately 40 minutes later spotted the car at Route 111 and Interstate 270 and stopped it on Route 111 at Old Pegg Road, finding the 16-year-old boy and a 14-year-old Mitchell girl in the vehicle.

They were taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville and were transferred later Friday to the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home at Edwardsville.

A spokesman for the sheriff's department said that the 16-year-old boy had been the root of "several problems in the past," so petitions were filed Friday asking the court to certify him as an adult. The spokesman said the boy will have a birthday Aug. 3, so is less than two months away from being classified as an adult, under Illinois statutes.

Mrs. Whitkamp sought treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for injuries she suffered in the home invasion. She was treated for a cut to her forehead and bruises to her head and right hand from the beating. She was released after treatment.

Here comes summer

Summer officially began today at 12:23 p.m. Central Daylight Time (CDT). This is the exact time of the summer solstice, when the sun is at its greatest distance from the celestial equator.

Because of the location of the sun at this time of year, anything north of the Arctic Circle will receive 24 hours of sunlight for the next few weeks. Also, a partial eclipse of the sun occurred about 7:30 this morning, but was only visible from the extreme southern part of Africa.

By the sun, the longest day of the year will be Friday, June 25, when there will be 14 hours and 52 minutes of daylight. Sunrise on that day will be at 5:37 a.m. CDT and sunset will be at 8:29 p.m. CDT.

For those who are star gazers, there will be a total eclipse of the moon, visible from the U.S. and Canada, on Tuesday, July 6. Probably only the most devoted amateur astronomers will see this eclipse, weather permitting, since the phase of totality begins at 1:38 a.m. CDT and ends at 3:24 a.m. CDT.

THE COMING OF SUMMER marked the end of spring and of spring cleanup. Above Kristal, 7, and Shannon, 9, Robinson, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robinson of 1310 18th Street of Granite City, return a vacuum sweeper used for such a clean up. The two were photographed last week shortly after a spring thunderstorm drenched the Quad-Cities. The girls were unable to resist the temptation of playing in the rain, thus their wet hair and clothes.

Hearing Wednesday on proposal to trade dust for dust

A public hearing concerning Granite City Steel's proposal to trade road and parking lot dust for plant emissions will be the topic of discussion Wednesday at City Hall.

The steel company proposes reducing dust emissions from roads and parking lots by 1,034 tons per year, if air pollution authorities will release the company from a current order to cut in half the 397 tons per year of emissions produced by plant cast house operations.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) hearing, which will be conducted at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Granite City Hall, is one of the final steps towards approval of the proposal from Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp. of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The steel company's alternate plan is possible under a new "bubble" approach that allows a plant to exceed emission standards at some points, and to provide more controls than required by current laws at other points.

The trade is intended to produce approximately equal air quality results in an imaginary air bubble around the plant for a more economical price.

The proposed emissions trade-off here could possibly save the company millions of dollars in air control expenditures, according to a statement by Dr. John Mandia, GC Steel vice president for environmental control. John Perry, representative of IEPA's Air Pollution Control Division, said Tuesday that his agency has received only one response on the proposed trade since the period for public comment opened May 23.

The single response — a four-page document from the national Citizens for a Better Environment — will be read at the hearing, said Perry, who preferred not to release the content of the paper until Wednesday.

Perry said the group's response poses questions on five separate issues raised by the emissions plan. The IEPA will answer the questions in a letter or

Job arrive emphasized

By BILL WINTER

Gathering and spreading the word about how profitable it is to operate a business here was a topic that occupied 50 labor, business and governmental leaders in a 90-minute discussion last week.

Goal of the exchange of ideas was job growth, an objective regarded as of great potential benefit to employment seekers, commercial businesses, government, labor organizations and manufacturers—everyone in the Quad-City area.

Numerous solutions or partial solutions were voiced, including a more

Poe is convicted of murder

Deliberating for four hours, a Madison County jury of eight men and four women voted Thursday evening to convict Danny Poe Jr. of murder.

Testimony had begun June 15 at Edwardsville in the trial of Poe, 22, of 2433 Logan St., who fatally beat Joseph Carl Fowler, 54, of 2131 Illinois Ave., on Sept. 5, 1981.

The man died of head injuries aggravated by a high level of alcohol in his body, an autopsy showed.

Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick said a sentencing hearing will be scheduled in about 30 days. The defendant has been in custody in lieu of $200,000 bond since being indicted in January.

Poe admitted repeatedly striking Mr. Fowler, who was characterized by Assistant State's Attorney Susan Jensen as "a downtrodden man, a weaker man from whom he (Poe) knew he could take money."

Defense Attorney Robert Mateosian emphasized that the victim was in poor health due to alcoholism and contended, "It was an accident. The man was close to death, and all it took was a little push."

Poe had been drinking most of the afternoon with friends prior to the assault with fists at 8:15 in the evening.

Mr. Fowler, drunk and denied service at Vic's Tavern on Illinois Avenue, had been offering money to anyone who would buy him a half-pint of whiskey, witnesses related. The beating occurred outdoors near the tavern in the 2000 block of Illinois.

Poe claimed the victim made a comment that could be interpreted as a homosexual advance, and also criticized the length of Poe's hair, which extended below the shoulders.

"I blew my temper" but had no intention of killing anyone, Poe told the jury. The victim was alive and sitting upright when Poe left with others in a car.

Miss Jensen accused the defendant of taking advantage of a "weak old man" but Poe maintained that "he insulted me. I didn't beat him up; I just hit him."

Dennis Todd, who works at the tavern, said he saw Poe kick Mr. Fowler, knock him down and hit him about four times.

Patricia Lear related that the victim sat up after Poe walked away. When police arrived a few minutes later, he appeared to be dead and emergency technicians' efforts to revive him were unsuccessful.

The victim had a cut and a lump on his forehead, with blood around his nose and mouth.

Rick Evans told jurors he frisked Mr. Fowler with the intention of robbing him after he was hurt, but found no money. Police said cash had been taken by someone, and the prosecutor accused Poe.

Mateosian in his closing argument challenged Evans' credibility. The latter said Poe had suggested robbing him after he was hurt. Poe said it was Evans' idea.

Mr. Fowler, born in Tennessee, had resided in this area for the last 40 years. He was a disabled World War II Navy veteran.

Area sidewalk sales

A live band and visits by Terry Stieve and another football Cardinal, Dave Butz of the Washington Redskins and Bob Cryder of the New England Patriots are among the downtown Granite City offerings during the annual area sidewalk sales event Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Quad-City area.

Special events will center around the Madison business district, downtown Granite City and Bellefonte Village Shopping Center. Bellefonte Village will feature an arts and crafts festival.

Special awards for lucky Quad-City area shoppers will include a free round trip ticket to Hawaii and three autographed footballs. The appearances of football players and selection of autographed football recipients will be in the downtown area from 5 to 7 p.m. Thursday. The band "Austin Renegade" will perform downtown from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday.

TAKING THE PLUNGE. It's not the "Screaming Eagle," but visitors to the annual St. Mary's Church picnic in Madison make the most of this mini-roller coaster just the same. Despite thunderstorms which damped most activities Friday night, the picnickers did enjoy themselves late into the night on Saturday and Sunday.

Edgar-Worthen

Miss Paula Worthen became the bride of Michael Edgar in a double ring ceremony on May 22 at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church.

The Rev. Frank Ramotowski officiated the 7 o'clock evening service. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Worthen, 37 Janday Lane, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Edgar, Desloge, Mo.

For her wedding the former Miss Worthen chose a white Chantilly lace over taffeta bouffant gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, accented with Venice lace trim and seed pearls and bishop style sleeves.

A chapel length train fell softly from the rows of ruffles that covered the full skirt. The bride carried a cascade of white roses and tiger lilies with pink and orchid forget-me-nots, white lily of the valley and bell flowers.

Miss Anita Landman served as the maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Cindy Worthen, sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Lori Malotki.

They were attired in off shouldered multicolor flowered print chiffon gowns. Each attendant carried an arm bouquet of orchid and pink roses.

Brandy Hoyt carrying a white wicker basket of pink and orchid rose buds, served as the flower girl and Michael Worthen, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Rodney Weir attended the groom as best man. Jeff Worthen, brother of the bride, and Steve Edgar, brother of the groom, were groomsmen.

Following the service, a reception was held at St. Elizabeth's Church Hall. The rehearsal dinner was at Ravenhill's Restaurant.

The bride graduated from Granite City High School South in 1978, attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and is currently employed at Sonnie and Char's in Collinsville.

A graduate of Southeast Missouri State University, the groom is a supervisor at Granite City Steel.

They are residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to the Ozarks.

Kessler-Kratz

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Kratz, Spanish Lake, Mo., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Rebekah E. Kratz to Marvin R. Kessler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin R. Kessler Sr., Granite City.

The bride-elect graduated from Hazelwood East High School.

Her fiancé is employed at Combustion Engineering, St. Louis, and is a graduate of Granite City High School South and Florissant Valley Junior College.

Plans are being completed by the betrothed couple for a July 10 wedding to be held at the First United Penecostal Church.

Rebekah Kratz and Marvin Kessler

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Miller

Miller-Hill

Miss Katherine Coella Hill and Frederic Ailing Miller, both of New York City, N.Y., exchanged wedding vows in an afternoon ceremony on May 15 at St. Bartholomew's Church in New York City.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Joseph Hill of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Miller Jr. of Weston, Mass., and Amagansett, Long Island.

Arrangements of white gladiolus and greenery on the altar provided the setting for the double ring service performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Thomas D. Bowers and co-celebrant the Rev. John D. Boyd, head of the English Department of Fordham University.

Nuptial selections were provided by Jack Casseward, organist, and a quartet including Daniel Miller, brother of the groom, playing the cello, Marya Columbia and Jeffrey Ellenberger, violin, and Susan Brown, viola.

Readings were by Wilson Ailing, an uncle of the groom, Darthea Miller, and Marvin Joseph Hill, father of the bride.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a full length candlelight chiffon gown designed in a Victorian style with a high neckline and sheer yoke of Brussels embroidery and Venetian lace, etched with seed pearls. The tucked blouson bodice was enhanced with a satin ribbon and silk rose at the waist.

Her long tucked sleeves terminated at the wrist with lace trim from the bridal gown worn by the groom's great-grandmother and his mother. The A-line skirt and chapel train was bordered with a lace flounce.

She wore a wide brim hat accented with Brussels embroidery and Venetian lace with cascading veiling at the back. Her bouquet was an arrangement of freesia, gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Genevieve Bytner Hill attended her daughter as matron of honor. She created her floor length gown of pale apricot georgette fashioned with a pleated bodice and long sleeves, and she held a colonial bouquet of Sonia ribbons.

Mrs. Evelyn Riley served as bridesmaid. She was attired in a pale pink full length dress featuring an empire waistline, double collar and softly flowing skirt. She carried a round style bouquet of white daisies, pink roses and baby's breath.

The groom chose his father, Paul R. Miller Jr., as best man. Paul R. Miller II, a brother of the groom, was the groomsmen and served with Wilson Ailing as ushers.

Guests were received at a reception held in the Explorers Club, New York, and the rehearsal dinner, given by the groom's parents, was at the Lotus Club in New York. A local reception will be held at Sunset Hills Country Club in Edwardsville, later this month.

The newlywed couple took a wedding trip to Paris, France, and will reside in New York City, upon their return.

Mrs. Nancy McIlvay attended the guest book and will also serve in that capacity at the reception to be given in Edwardsville.

The bride was graduated summa cum laude from Fordham University, elected to Phi Beta Kappa there, and received a Ph.D. degree from Columbia University. She formerly taught at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., and presently is an assistant professor of English at C.W. Post Center of Long Island University, Hicksville, N.Y.

While a faculty member of William and Mary, she spent six weeks teaching at Cambridge University, Cambridge, England.

Employed as a public policy coordinator of McGraw-Hill Inc., the groom also is a summa cum laude graduate of Princeton University where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He received a Master of Philosophy degree from New College, Oxford University where he was a Marshall scholar. Last year he served with the Department of State as a Fellow of the Council on Foreign Relations.

The groom's mother chose a corfflower blue street length silk dress created with a shirred bodice, short raglan ruffled sleeves and skirt encircled with a gathered flounce at the hemline.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Holt of Wheaton, Ill., an uncle and aunt of the groom, Mrs. Mary Miller Spalding and family of New Canaan, Conn., the groom's aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Frederic A. Ailing and family, Grandview, N.Y., an uncle and aunt of the groom, the Rev. Richard E. Spalding, Albany, N.Y., the groom's cousin, and Dr. and Mrs. Elliott Middleton, Buffalo, N.Y.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bytner, Postenkill, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. William Sargood, Hooisick Falls, N.Y., and Miss Helen Bytner, Ballston, N.Y.

Bride-elect is honored

Miss Julia Bunch was honored with a bridal shower last week at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, hosted by her bridesmaids, Misses Connie Maxfield, Kathy Lorden, Jane Kraus and Candice Lynn.

Decorations of green and white bellies and streamers arrayed the gift and buffet tables.

The honoree opened her gifts with the assistance of her bridesmaids. The guests played games and prizes were won by many.

Twenty-five guests attended the shower, including the mother of the bride, Mrs. Ruth Bunch, and Mrs. Pat Lynn, the mother of the groom.

Miss Julia Bunch and Lieutenant Mark A. Lynn plan to be married at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church on July 3.

First child for service couple

First Class Petty Officer and Mrs. Lyle Tempel Jr., of Duluth, Minn., have selected the name of Andrew Justin for their first child, born on Monday, June 14, at St. Mary's Hospital in Duluth.

The new arrival weighed seven pounds, 12 1/2 ounces. Mrs. Tempel is the former Brenda Beide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beide. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Tempel Sr., all of Granite City.

Great-grandmothers are Mrs. Brooks Cottrell and Mrs. Arthur Beide, also of Granite City. The father of the infant is serving with the U.S. Coast Guard in Duluth.

Francis-Mora

St. Cecilia Church in Glen Carbon, was the scene of the wedding on May 22 of Miss Diana Mora, of Carbondale, Ill., and Thomas A. Francis, of Glen Carbon.

Thomas, Rev. Jim DeManuele, chaplain at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, officiated at the double ring ceremony at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Parents of the bride are Carlos Mora of New York, and Mrs. Blanca Badia of Puerto Rico. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Francis, 48 Glen Echo Drive, Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City.

A program of selected wedding music was provided by Sandy Miller and Judy Kerney.

For her wedding, the bride selected an ivory taffeta over chiffon gown designed with an off the shoulder bodice accented with gathered flounce, edged with lace. Her semi-straight skirt was fashioned with tiered pleats and gathered with a matching lace trim.

She wore a cluster of fresh flowers and baby's breath in her hair and held a bouquet of baby's breath and violet irises.

Blanca Mora, a sister of the bride, served as honor attendant. She was gown in a pink floral eyelet dress created with a scoop neckline and gathered skirt. A matching ruffle accented the neckline and hemline and a pink satin sash marked the natural waist.

Michele Mott and Nahir Baez, nieces of the groom and bride, respectively, were flower girls, and wore frocks identical to the maid of honor.

They all carried a basket of white daisies, pink carnations, baby's breath and Swedish ivy, and wore matching flowers in their hair.

Michael Mora, the bride's son, was the ring bearer. Roger Mueller attended the groom as best man. Michael Francis, a brother of the groom, and Julio Baez, the bride's brother-in-law, seated the guests.

A reception was held in the home of the groom's parents, immediately following the ceremony, and the rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Francis at Sunset Hills Country Club.

After a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, the newlywed couple is now residing in Carbondale.

The bride and groom are graduates of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, and the groom will be attending medical school at SIUC, in the fall. He also graduated from Granite City High School South in 1977.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Badia chose a pastel floral street dress with long sleeves and pleated skirt, complemented with a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother appeared in a Kelly green linen frock trimmed with white piping at the neckline and a white pleated skirt. Her corsage was made up of white carnations.

report to be issued sometime after the public meeting.
The Citizens for a Better Environment is a national environmental group with about 25,000 members. The document was submitted from the group's Chicago office.
Spokesmen there could not be reached for comment this week.

Perry said that no individual or organization has formally asked to testify Wednesday, although he expects the federal EPA to make such a request. Agreement by the EPA is needed before the bubble permit can be granted.
At the hearing, the floor will be open to public comments.

GC Steel submitted its completed application for the bubble plan Feb. 8 and Perry said the EPA has 180 days from that date to make a final ruling. The agency already has issued a preliminary approval of the proposal.

In the preliminary approval report, the agency cited the violation of all eight of city's air pollution monitors in suspended particulates. The smaller-sized particles are of special concern because they "can become deposited within the respiratory system."
According to IEPA report, the health hazards posed by suspended particles increase as their sizes decrease. As deposited in the nose and throat, then deep into the bronchi with the smaller sizes of reaching the air sacs in the lungs.

GC Steel now is involved in two air pollution compliance programs. Both compliance programs require reducing by Sept. 30 blast furnace cast house emissions, which contain fine particles of iron, carbon and silica.
The company also has been ordered to reduce from 2,974 to 1,486 tons per year road and parking "open dust" containing crushed iron ore, coal and limestone from raw materials loaded and unloaded.

Particulates created during the production of steel also rest on the road as does dust containing iron, calcium, magnesium oxides from iron ore, calcium and magnesium silicate from limestone, and coal particles.

Under the bubble plan, the order to cut in half the 30 tons per year of emissions from city's houses would be dropped in favor of a further reduction of the open road dust. This would further reduce the open road dust from the estimated 20 percent to 75 percent effectiveness through the regular application of chemical dust suppressant on the roads.

Dust also would have to be reduced by the steel company by paving a mile and a half of roadways and two of its larger parking lots.

If the bubble trial is approved, GC Steel has until December 1984 to prove that the control of road dust particles will achieve certain air quality standards. If not, the steel company will have to further control the emissions from the cast house.

Conditions laid down by the IEPA permit are expected to include:
—Continuing the closing of 10 miles of north traffic roads and parking lots until Dec. 31, or until the start of the road chemical spraying program.
—Spraying of roads must start by Dec. 31.

Starting no later than June 30, 1983, open areas must be treated with the chemical dust suppressant.
—No later than Dec. 31, 1983, the Nash Street parking lots and one and a half miles of roads at the Basic Oxygen Furnace and North Plant will be paved and then vacuum cleaned or water flushed every two weeks.

Records of control must be kept and sent periodically to the state EPA.

Tax rates

—State Park street lighting, down .8 of a cent.
—And Miracle Manor-Bellemore Place street lighting, down .5 cent.
—Pontoon Beach does not levy a village property tax.

Unchanged this year are the fire district tax rates of Mitchell and Long Lake.

Four local real estate tax rates are rising for the 1981 tax year (collection in 1982):
—Venice township, up .7 of a cent.
—Venice parks, up .8 cent.
—Granite City schools, up .9 cent.
—And Nameoki township, up .73 cents.

Miss Bowles computed the new rates from governing bodies' tax levies, after final assessments were determined. The rates now will be applied against individual valuations to guide the preparation of tax bills.

The county clerk discussed the meaning of the new rates, comments:

menting:
"A home assessed in the par' district and city of Granite City for $10,000 (representing $30,000 actual value) will be taxed $837.30.

The $837.30 will be distributed among the taxing districts as follows:
—Schools $338, the city government $145, Madison County $89.90, Metro-East Sanitary $29.10, Granite City township $28.30, the park district $20.80 and the area college, $16.20.

"In the city and park district of Venice, a house with a $10,000 valuation will be taxed $708.50 for the following:
—Venice community unit school district $247.20, Venice $178, county $59.90, Venice township $41.40, sanitary district $29.10, Venice parks $24.30, Belleville Area College $18.20 and township roads, $10.40."

The official new tax rates on each $100 of assessed valuation:
City—Venice $1.78, Granite City $1.43 and Madison $1.06.3.

Schools—Venice $3.47, Granite City $3.38 and Madison $2.53.6.
Township general and relief costs—Venice 4.4 cents, Nameoki 3.4, Granite City 28.3 and Chouteau, 14.2.

Road and bridge programs—Chouteau 35.2 cents, Nameoki 33.4 and Venice (Venice-Madison area), 10.4 cents.

Parks—Venice 24.3 cents and Granite City, 20.8.
Firefighting districts—Long Lake 30.2 cents, Mitchell 30 and State Park, 24.2.

Street lighting—State Park Place 2.4 cents and Miracle Manor-Bellemore Place, 1.2.
Sanitary sewers in parts of Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships—$11.42.
County—$9.9 cents.
City—Venice $1.78, Granite City $1.43 and Madison $1.06.3.

102-5 vote backs fire district

Nameoki Township residents in the Cloverleaf East Madison area voted overwhelmingly Saturday to form their own fire district, according to Charles Reed, chairman of the citizens' fire protection committee.

Reed said the unofficial count was 102 for forming the district with only five votes against the plan, which will include a property tax levy not to exceed 12.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

The Madison City Council out of the Cloverleaf-East Madison unincorporated sections of Nameoki Township from fire protection Jan. 31 after individual fire call bills to homes in that area were not paid.

The funds to be raised guarantee for future fire call payments to the Madison Volunteer Fire Department.

Job drive

intensive "buy American" campaign: "You see a lot of cars, trucks, vans in parking lots around town, and none of them use steel from National Steel," it was pointed out. National Steel lost $40 million in the first quarter of 1982 and its Granite City Steel plant has 500 to 1,000 of its workers on layoffs in a typical week this year, it was noted.

Officials speaking at the June community prayer breakfast were Bob Weis of the Bricklayers, Alan Richardson of the Chamber of Commerce, George Knecht of the United Steelworkers, Carl Mathias of Illinois Power Co., Drew Karandjoff of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, Arthur Griffin of the Laborers, Terry Seabolt of Granite City Steel and John Ubaldi, former Carpenters officer who is now a construction executive.

An active, concerted labor-management effort was called for by many of those speaking.

Some suggested local governments—Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville—as the catalyst for cooperation by diverse segments of the Quad-City area.

One proposal was that a Granite City Economic Board be formed, and that it have a representative on the board of a planned new Southwestern Illinois Economic Development Corporation.

An issue cited by Weis, the final speaker, was: "Who knows about it?" Who knows, he wanted to know, when local construction projects are completed ahead of schedule, with no jurisdictional work stoppages, with relatively low costs and with quality craftsmanship?

Karandjoff said the Press-Record has been publishing positive news about construction labor and other aspects of this area, but said he worries that publications in other states may perceive "the area from East St. Louis to Springfield" as being uniformly beset with problems.

Ubaldi said some out-of-town contractors which have a happy experience here downgrade Madison County in their conversations with others, as a way of weeding out some of their competition in future bidding for contracts.

Richardson called for the assembling of up-to-date, factual data on the Quad-Cities, followed by marketing efforts to encourage new industries to locate here.

Ubaldi urged, if prospects cannot find a suitable site here, that they be referred to Alton, Edwardsville and Collinsville sites, and the reverse.

Fragmentation and friction were cited by Richardson as unsolved problems, with too many interests pulling in opposing directions rather than working together to maintain and attract industry.

Griffin called for "crisis cooperation" reminiscent of that displayed unhesitatingly when tragedies occur here. He said the extent of unemployment constitutes an emergency justifying joint remedial steps.

Karandjoff served as moderator of the meeting, which was sponsored by the Granite City Rotary Club.

He noted that Illinois Power and the Chamber trained local economic development team this spring and that the team hopes to begin promptly to make use of what was learned in the training sessions.

Speakers called favorable attention to work by SUIE President Earl Lazerson and Dr. Robert Koepke of the university's staff to push for development throughout a multi-county area of Southwestern Illinois.

A proposed local economic entity is visualized as cooperating with the SUIE development program and also initiating community-level job expansion activity here.

Recalling that he moved to Granite City 20 years ago, Mathias said this area was booming but since then—for a variety of reasons—has seen the departure of most of the Army Depot operations, along with General Steel Industries, Union Star and successor firms, Laclede Steel and A.O. Smith.

"Factors mentioned were obsolete buildings or equipment, changing products and techniques, market trends and differing needs, but all of that is academic at this point. We need to concentrate on keeping remaining companies healthy and encouraging more to locate here," Mathias commented.

"Our two largest manufacturers, Granite City Steel and American Steel Foundries, are losing millions of dollars.

"The goal of the economic seminars this spring was to find ways to help such plants be economically viable, so that they will continue and expand their operations and so that other employers will be attracted to the area.

"Illinois Power still thinks this area is an outstanding place for businesses to be established."

"The power company's own industrial park on Highway Three in Granite City is the site of Precast Metals and there is to be construction by Sidener Supply during 1982.

"We are acquiring an additional 100 acres to the south to expand the industrial park and accommodate additional tenants."

"This community is the best possible location for industries in the whole metropolitan area, but unless more jobs can be created here there are going to be serious problems for government and the public."

"It's not a matter of fighting over who is to blame for the past. We all need to avoid squabbling and take whatever steps are needed to assure economic viability."

"Let's recognize that we do have a problem—unemployment—and let's not let it go to solve it," Mathias recommended.

Seabolt said the steel business has been poor for the past three years and noted that National Steel has decided against investing any more capital funds in its large Weirton, W. Va., steelmaking plant, which is being offered for purchase by the employees.

Curtailed operations are harmful not only to the staff of Granite City Steel but to the entire local community, he said, adding that National Steel is hoping for an uptrend in orders for steel in the coming months.

Seabolt concluded, "We all need to work together. "We have to weather this depressed period and then be ready for increased business in the future."

Richardson, who has been with the local Chamber for eight months after previous service as a Regional Commerce and Growth Association economic development consultant, urged that a coalition of Quad-Cityans work as a unit—in coordinated, rather than fragmented, job attraction efforts.

"Without cohesion, there is very little that can be accomplished."

"We have been gathering data on this area and updating our files. We plan to identify specific kinds of industries—particular industries—that could do well here and that could utilize local products."

"This targeting and attracting of companies is a slow-moving process. It won't be completed overnight, but it is what we need to do."

"We need to broaden the base of local employers so that our community is not tied to the cyclical trends of the steel industry."

"At the same time, we need to do all we can to help the employers that we currently have. Major companies are going to invest and expand where they can operate successfully."

"There has been a real shortage of information about what this community has to offer. When companies cannot find out what they need to know quickly, perhaps at a single place, they are going to look elsewhere."

Griffin recalled participating on many labor-management panels and committees. He advocated development efforts with continuity, rather than a short-term approach.

He said extensive efforts were made to retain the General Steel plant when it was excluded from some of the pivotal meetings.

"Labor must not be merely window-dressing and should have substantial input in planning and carrying out the development program," he told the breakfast gathering.

Knecht said labor people usually approach with "a lot of mistrust" and there is obvious tension in meetings on such topics, even before anything has been said.

He added that unions' try to remain open-minded when both parties consider how to keep an industry competitive and profitable, but that some companies in Steelworkers District 34 "try to take advantage of this" and propose endless lists of contract concessions.

Knecht said loss of business to foreign firms is sometimes blamed on domestic steelmakers that fail to invest in their own enterprises.

But he acknowledged that, in recent times, steel profits have averaged five percent, compared to 14 percent that can be obtained on strictly monetary investments.

He recommended a continuing dialogue between groups here as attempts are made to attract new manufacturing jobs.

He suggested a leading role for government officials, since all persons are affected by and have a voice in government.

Knecht added that while this area sometimes is pictured as one where labor relations are difficult, its record of 91 percent of contract settlements without strife is better than most communities.

Ubaldi said businesses sometimes have a dual approach, utilizing non-union equipment or facilities but then calling on unions for help on other matters.

Illinois State Chamber of Commerce materials complaining about Illinois unemployment insurance and worker compensation costs are being used extensively in Texas to discourage investments in Illinois," he said in calling for Illinois groups to issue more constructive and positive information about this state.

"It's been said that we as a community or county cannot do much to offset a nationwide problem like the loss of steel sales. But it isn't true. Let's begin here and now to make a real effort to 'buy American.'"

"Let's keep hammering away with the facts about our area and let's keep going, not just settle for one or two meetings about our problems," Ubaldi asserted.

Griffin said this community consistently displays "an unbelievable amount of unselfish cooperation" when a catastrophe occurs, lending people and time and equipment without thought of repayment.

If such good instincts and attitudes can be marshaled and focused to meet a crisis like high unemployment, there can be unexpectedly large accomplishments and benefits, he predicted.

Weis described a River Bend area economic development project that has grown support from a cross-section of people and groups, and said a meeting is set for July 10. He invited members of the audience to attend and obtain ideas for the Quad-Cities.

The speaker suggested a "task force" approach and the establishment of priorities.

He also traced the "Image" labor-management agency since its formation in 1978 and said its tireless activity has led to quick resolving of jurisdictional matters before they become problems, resulting in an outstanding climate for construction work in this region.

Weis encouraged inter-city cooperation. He portrayed SUIE as an umbrella entity for economic development—utilizing labor, contractor, commerce, railroad, state and other initiatives.

It is essential that people here and in distant areas become better acquainted with progressive local occurrences, he told the group.

Weis cited the metropolitan area airport site dispute in the 1970s as an example of how Illinoisians allow fragmentation to thwart a sensible, beneficial plan.

Missourians, meanwhile, acted with much greater coordination, aided by such effective legislators as U.S. Senator Thomas Eagleton, he said. He urged that—on vital state and federal legislative issues—local labor and business leaders work together in their lobbying.

Weis said the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs will establish an office in the Madison-St. Clair counties area soon.

Mathias said he is not unalterably committed to the Chamber as sole sponsor of local economic development, but pointed out that the Chamber has budgeted so that it can provide much of the necessary financing.

Karandjoff said four of the ten prayer breakfasts in 1981-82 dealt with job development, and gave assurance that the prayer group will continue its interest in that objective during 1982-83.

REDISTRICT MEETING

The special Aldermanic Committee appointed to study the necessity of redistricting the wards of the city of Madison will meet Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Madison City Hall, 1529 Third St., Madison.

Catch 2 in locked store

Two Granite Cityans were captured in the closed-for-the-night E & L Flea Mart, 2200 Washington Ave., at 4:50 a.m. today.

No formal charges have yet been filed. Police are questioning the pair today.

One was seen dropping a bowl containing 454 pennies to the sidewalk outside a window of the store. The arrests followed within several minutes.

Cigarettes, rings, coins and other items are part of the investigation that is in progress. It is believed entry was gained through a window that contained a fan.

India is topic of Sisterhood

Mrs. Evelyn Thompson, president of the Sisterhood of the Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church, spoke on her experiences of India at a luncheon meeting held last week at the church.

She conducted the business segment as plans were discussed for the annual September bazaar. Mrs. Thompson announced that a picnic luncheon will be featured at the July 9 session, to be hosted in the church hall.

Hostess for the meeting were Mrs. Millie Sherman, Mrs. Emma Elmore and Mrs. Thompson. In keeping with the parade and circus events in the area they used brass animals from India to form a table centerpiece. The invocation was given by Mrs. Opal Davis.

Society for Crippled Children set projects

The Granite City Society for Crippled Children will sponsor a booth at the Fourth of July festival. Plans were finalized at the meeting held at St. John's United Church of Christ. The members also discussed the annual benefit dinner-dance that is held later in the year.

Members will be selling chocolate covered bananas at the Fourth of July festivities and the money earned will assist the handicapped children in the Quad-City area. Member Cathy Reznack said, "The money we receive aids families who have handicapped children. We send children to camp and help families pay high hospital bills." Through this society, snacks were given to preschool children who no longer received them because of the budget cuts, she added.

The annual benefit dinner-dance will be held on Nov. 13 at Creation Home. Anyone interested in assisting with the dinner-dance or joining the group may contact Cathy Reznack at 451-9013.

Former resident receives award

Miss Mary Rae Simmons, 14, formerly of Granite City, was the winner of the Citizenship award at the Miss Arkansas National Teen-Ager Pageant held in Conway, Ark.

Miss Simmons played the piano for the talent segment and for her community service and scholastic achievements, she received a $4000 scholarship.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray S. Simmons of Tuckerman, Ark.

Mr., Mrs. Joseph Kula mark 60th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kula of Madison, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at a reception given in Englebert Hall by their children and grandchildren.

Prior to the social event the honorees attended a 11 a.m. mass at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison, celebrated by the Rev. Frank Kordak, pastor.

The guests of honor received 150 friends and relatives who attended the reception.

Mr. Kula and his wife were married at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison, on May 23, 1922.

They are the parents of Alfred Kula of Edwardsville, and Mrs. Geraldine Friend of Madison. They also have five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Mr. Kula retired 16 years ago from American Car and Foundry after 47 years service. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, holding a third and fourth degree, and also holds membership in the FRC Lodge 1004, the Boosters Club of St. Mary's and is president of St. Mary's Credit Union.

Mrs. Kula is a member of St. Ann Altar Society and the Daughters of Isabella, Fatima Circle. Both are members of St. Mary's Church.

William Arnold and Kelso Wilson

Arnold-Wilson

The engagement of Miss Kelso "Kelly" Wilson of Granite City, and William D. Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Arnold, 3558 E. St., is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Colonel and Mrs. Ernest R. Wilson, USAF ret., of Trenton, Ill.

Miss Wilson is a 1977 graduate of Wescinn High School in Trenton and presently is a senior student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Her fiancé works as a welder at Guarantee Instruments Systems of Missouri and is a 1973 graduate of Granite City High School South.

Plans are being completed for a July 24 wedding to take place at an Episcopal Church in Collinsville, by the engaged couple.

Area PTA awards two scholarships

Ethyl N. Mathis and Kimberly Ann Evans each received a $500 scholarship from the Granite City Area Council PTA Scholarship Fund. They were selected on their grade point average, character and leadership, scholastic achievement and willingness to contribute to others.

Mrs. Bea Stevenson was chairman of this committee and presented the scholarships at the recent "Senior Recognition Assembly" held at the respective schools.

Surprise party for Mrs. King

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Reed hosted a surprise birthday party at 2215 Bern Ave., honoring Mrs. Betty King on her 60th birthday.

The patio, decorated by Carol Wells, displayed welcoming signs, balloons and pink, blue and white streamers.

A buffet was served to the guests present and the honoree received a decorated cake and many gifts. The "Happy Birthdays" group of young people from Creation Hall, presented Mrs. King with a large green plant.

The evening consisted of polka music played by Frank Obrenski, on the accordion.

Those attending the party were, Jerry and Eva Wells, Carol Wells, Charlene and Gerald Reed, Jackie Fiet-sam, Sophie and Joe O'Neil, Tommy King, John and Mary Kowaleki, Rod and Debbi Reed, Glen and Joyce Bedford and Rosie Debeve, Vincent Debeve Sr. and Rose and Jennifer Debeve, Vince and Kathy Debeve, Velde Taylor, Lori Six, Pete and Mary Carich, Denise Carlich, Judy Hartman and son Mike, Kim Hartman, Frank Obrenski II, Bill Harrington, Gloria Hartman and Emil Zimmerman.

Greg Beeler is honored

A graduation picnic was held at Wilson Park last week for recent Granite City High School North graduate Greg Beeler. The picnic was given by the honoree's father, Ronnie Beeler, sister, Diane Beeler, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Beeler.

Approximately 60 guests attended the party and presented well wishes to the honoree.

Marsha Fisher is honored

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fisher, 2668 Center Street, honored their daughter, Marsha Fisher, with a graduation party, last week, 3 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Marsha is a graduate of Granite City High School South. Approximately 30 guests attended the party where a buffet type dinner was served, including Sloppy Joe, potato salad, chips and a relish tray.

In high school Miss Fisher majored in science, and she was actively involved in the speech department and the Southern Express Swing Choir.

Graduation party honors brothers
Tim and Gary Phelps Jr. were honored by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gary (Barbara) Phelps, at an Open House last week.

Tim is a recent graduate from Granite City South and Gary recently graduated from the University of Missouri, St. Louis.

A buffet luncheon was served to the 30 guests attending.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barnhardt of Bald Knob, Ark. and Vicky and Marvin of Pasadena Hills, Mo.

Miss Salsbury begins training

Karla Salsbury, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Donald E. Salsbury, local commanding officers, of the Salvation Army Corps, has been accepted to the School for Officers Training in Chicago, Ill., and is the first to attain this honor in 26 years.

After two years of extensive training, Miss Salsbury will be commissioned a lieutenant and stationed at a corps in the Central Territory.

A fund has been established to complete the $150 cost of the uniform, and contribution may be sent to John Tallgren, at the First Granite City National Bank, 20th Street and Edison Avenue. She will depart on Aug. 30, to begin training.

Salt before sake

Connoisseurs claim that to savor the aroma and release the subtle flavors of sake (Japanese rice wine) one must drink it warm (heated to about 110 degrees Fahrenheit). To bring out the drink's mellow quality, some Japanese take a pinch of salt before their first sip.

McKinley Bridge popularity increasing

By VALERIE EVENEDEN of the Press-Record

An upswing in daily traffic using the McKinley Bridge in Venice, compared to the same period last year, again was noted in a report made to the Venice City Council at its meeting last week.

Tom Fields, bridge manager, said a total of 351,487 vehicles, averaging 11,388 daily, utilized the McKinley Bridge in May. The figures show an increased daily average of 538 vehicles over last May.

TV, JEWEL, BURGLARY

Two television sets, stereo set, silverware for eight, diamonds, gold, collectible stamps and rolls of coins were taken by a burglar who broke glass at the Ron Ely residence, 4101 Maryville Road, Thursday. Total value of the loot was estimated at several thousand dollars.

TWO CHARGES FILED

Mary K. Rainey, 24, of 24a Fontainebleau Drive was arrested for disorderly conduct at 10 p.m. Thursday at 23rd Street and Lee Avenue, where it was alleged she was beating and cursing Ben Adkins. An assault charge was filed at the police building after the allegedly fought with an officer near the booking desk.

DUI ARREST IN GC

Jody L. Terry, 26, of 1501 Edwardsville Road was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol in the 2300 block of Washington Avenue at 8:40 p.m. Thursday. He also was booked for cutting through a parking lot to avoid traffic lights at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue.

NIGHTTIME ARREST

Mark A. Butler, 24, of 215 Hampden St., Venice, was arrested for trespassing at 2:50 a.m. Friday at an apartment in the 1900 block of Grand Avenue.

Other subjects covered were reminders to residents of curfew hours for children, state laws relating to fireworks and the need to comply with the city's dog tag ordinance introduced by First Ward Alderman John Turk.

Additionally, the aldermen heard a request for a liquor license from Conrad Gardner, who submitted a complete application to the Mayor's Office on behalf of Gardner Bros. Enterprises and Gardner Construction Co., seeking to establish a business office and liquor store at 800 Main St., Venice.

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols read the application and stated, "Granting a liquor license is impossible at this time as no licenses are available."

Speaking directly to Gardner, who was present at the meeting, Mayor Echols noted the number of liquor licenses is restricted by ordinance (seven), adding "and the council will not see fit to increase it. All licenses are filled."

In discussing the dog licensing, Alderman Fleig commented, "There are more dogs in three blocks than your 've sold licenses for the city."

A report concerning the licenses stated a total of 28 male dogs tags at $1 each and 16 female tags at $2 each have been sold to date, amounting to $68 revenue added to the city coffers.

"Some people think that if you need a tag only if your dog is loose," Alderman Fleig said, adding, "What we're selling now won't even pay for the price of the tags."

Fourth Ward Alderman John Ervin said, "Well, let's start giving them a fine."

Alderman Fleig also asked for a meeting with the health and building inspectors to go over some points and "see what we can do with these people if they don't abide by the city ordinance."

He was referring to property in disrepair, some of which is abandoned, and other dwellings which are rapidly deteriorating due to lack of care.

Venice Civil Defense Director Benjamin Honorable asked the council to authorize city employees to sign a loyalty oath, as required by all emergency personnel working with the state and county Emergency Services and Disaster Agency (civil defense).

"All our city workers should be working on the emergency team if needed here or if we have to help other nearby communities."

"In order for the state to cover us through Workman's Compensation, should anyone be injured in an exercise or during an emergency, you have to sign the loyalty oath," the director explained.

Permission was given the director to ask Venice city workers to sign the oath.

Course in children's thinking

The Teachers' Center Project summer course on children's thinking and growth in math is scheduled Aug. 16 through 30 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Tom O'Brien, project director, said the class is a survey of the alternatives in promoting children's thinking. It will concentrate on practical classroom activities, new ways to assess learning and the use of computer software in the classroom.

A. I. Weinzwieg, a Chicago mathematician and specialist in children's math, will instruct the session with Shirley Case, SIUE visiting lecturer at TC. Margaret Case, former manager of product development for Minnesota Educational Computing Consortium (MECC) and O'Brien.

Weinzwieg, who is concerned about the lack of opportunities for critical thinking and problem solving in school curricula, has presented his ideas in scientific papers on children's learning to conferences in the United States and Europe.

For additional information, interested persons may contact Tom O'Brien at 1-692-3082.

File 5 charges in beating of woman at Iowa St. home

Sandra B. Cummings, 24, of 2618 Denver St. was arrested for battery, aggravated assault and having no firearm owner card for a 20-gauge shotgun found in an auto that police halted Thursday in the 2400 block of Missouri Avenue.

Cordelia Sparks, 24, St. Louis, was charged with battery and aggravated assault and was released at 8 p.m. Thursday on $500 cash bail.

It was alleged that one of them held a gun on Mrs. Iva Wiley at her home, Apt. 1 of 2400 Iowa St., while the other used a wooden rod to beat her about the face and head early that day.

Hospitalized, she told authorities she did not know either of the women.

"This is from Sandy," the suspects are alleged to have said as they struck Mrs. Wiley.

When an ambulance arrived, she was unconscious and bleeding from both nostrils. There was swelling around her left eye. She was lying on her back on the living room floor, having sustained two persons when they knocked on the front door.

Authorities said Sandra Cummings had blood on her left wrist and Cordelia Sparks had a right hand injury when the auto was stopped. Both denied involvement and knowledge of the beating.

NABBED ON WARRANT Jerry Nishke, 36, Jerseyville Route One, was not arrested as police broke up a fight in the 2200 block of Washington Avenue at 5:25 p.m. Thursday. But after officers checked their list of pending warrants, they served him with a 1981 Granite City warrant alleging petty theft. He was jailed until posting bond.

Workshops for hopeful writers

Southern Illinois University-Carbondale's School of Journalism is sponsoring a series of newspaper workshops for high school students this summer.

The workshops, co-sponsored by the Southern Illinois School Press Association (SISPA), are open to high school juniors and seniors-to-be. The first is underway and the second is scheduled July 11 through 17. Participants study news writing, copy editing, page makeup, feature and column writing, editorials, sports writing and photography, according to W. Manion Rice, workshop coordinator and SIUC journalism professor. They will have a chance to visit the SIUC campus newspaper, the "Daily Egyptian," and examine the newspaper's new computerized typesetting equipment and VDT-equipped newsroom.

Students will get daily laboratory experience on the "Workshop Journal," which is printed as a supplement to the "Daily Egyptian."

Workshop participants will be able to use the university's Morris Library, Student Center and campus recreation facilities.

Resident campers will be housed in air-conditioned university residence halls. Fee for resident campers is $93. Commuter camper fee is $20. Information is available from W. Manion Rice, School of Journalism, SIUC-Carbondale, Ill., 62901, telephone 1-536-3361.

BAC offers firearms class

Introduction to Firearms, offered by Belleville area College during the fall 1982 semester, will teach gun owners the liability and legal requirements of gun ownership in Illinois.

The course will develop skills in revolver, pistol and shotgun shooting. It will cover safe gun handling, care of firearms and moral and ethical considerations of their use.

Each section of the course will meet from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for two Saturdays. The first section will meet Aug. 7 and 14 in Highland. The second will meet Aug. 21 and 28 in Belleville, the third will meet Sept. 4 and 11 in Cahokia and the fourth will meet Sept. 18 and 25 in Fairview Heights.

Additional classes will be added if there is a demand. Registration is from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Friday at the Registrar's Office at the BAC main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville. Registration ends Wednesday, Aug. 25.

For additional information, call the Administration of Justice program, 235-2700, extension 287.

2 WOMEN CAPTURED

Efforts by a businessman and police led to the capture downtown of Cynthia Brown, 25, Caseyville, and Cheryl Waligorski, 28, Belleville, after the Casual Wear store, 19th Street and Edison Avenue, had been looted at 2:20 p.m. Thursday. Blue jeans worth $34 were found beneath an auto and two shirts valued at a total of $42 were removed from purses at the time of the theft arrests. A woman from Breese was released.

GC WOMAN BEATEN

Orville O. Brantley, 29, of 1415 Niedringhaus Ave. was arrested after he allegedly striking Carol Whitford repeatedly about the head and body Thursday in front of her home at 2619 Denver St. He was released on a $52 cash bond.

Tri-City wins 15-14; second game is cancelled

Edwardsville downs GC Legion 9-2

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

The Glen Carbon American Legion baseball team had a 1-0 lead after the second inning against Edwardsville last night at Hoppe Field. Then along came Edwardsville's half of the third and there went Glen Carbon's lead off into the night with the rain clouds. Edwardsville won 9-2.

Nearly every time Glen Carbon plays, the team has a bad inning. Last night, they had two in a row. Following a 6-3 win over Fairview Heights Saturday night, the team members were in high spirits before the game against Edwardsville. After the game, however, Glen Carbon Coach Larry Corey said he really did not want to talk about it. He cannot be blamed for wanting to forget what happened.

What did happen was seven errors spread over two innings. Those misplays put Glen Carbon out of the game. It could have been predicted from the beginning. In the first inning, with no outs, Brian Corey went to third on a bunt by Carl Luehmman. Although Corey was safe, it was the first of several base running errors for Glen Carbon.

In the second, Luehmman was caught stealing second with no outs. And so on, and so on.

Those errors do not show in the score book. But the fielding errors started to roll in soon after when Phil Yarnik hit to center field in the third inning. Mike Sullivan dove for the ball, but to no avail. Luehmman backed him up but batted the ball before getting the throw to the infield. Error one.

Then, Kevin King singled. He successfully stole second when Glen Carbon catcher Vince Mitchell, made a bad throw on the pick-off play. Error two.

Doug Yarnik reached on a fielding error by shortstop Brian Levin. King scored. Error three.

That was not even the worst of the bout of errors. Rich Fletcher, the next batter, hit to center and stole second.

Both Fletcher and Yarnik went home after Levin threw the ball low to first and Scott Corey then made a bad throw home trying to recover and get Fletcher. Errors four and five. The third inning finally ended.

The fourth was not any better, with Edwardsville scoring five runs, none of which were earned with two more Glen Carbon errors.

To make matters worse, Edwardsville reliever, Kevin Burns was brought in to replace starter Pat Braun in the fifth.

Burns smoked Glen Carbon. "The first pitcher (Braun) wasn't so bad either," Corey said. Braun did, however, suffer control problems, hitting three Glen Carbon batters (it was Brian Corey) to give them first.

Glen Carbon's run in the second game when Scott Corey crossed on a nice center field single by Rod Hessler. Corey had reached after being hit in the head by a pitch. The other Glen Carbon run was in the fourth when Mike Sullivan crossed on a beautiful double by Greg Beeler.

Beeler had fouled a ball to left and really pulled one that went way out into leftfield for the double. It was one of the better hits of the game.

"We always manage to have one bad inning," Corey said of Glen Carbon. The only thing that can be done at this point, he said is "to get better."

Not that Glen Carbon has had all bad games. They played well against Alton and were defeated, 4-3. They had good games against Belleville and then came the victory over Fairview Heights. But the team record stands at 1-8 in indicative, perhaps, of that one bad inning per game.

"We had a couple of good games and then we slipped back into our same old bad habits," Corey said.

field. The ball hit off the top of the fence and Burns ran into the fence in an attempt to catch the fly ball. As Burns lay stunned on the ground, Throm scampers all the way around the bases. Randy McEwin, who had reached base on a walk, also scored on the play.

Hefflin led the Chiefs with a three for four performance that included a home run, a double and a single. McDaniel got the win for the Chiefs now 2-6, while Treter took the loss for Corral, now 5-3.

GRANITE CITY—The first game of Tri-City American Legion's scheduled double header with Fred Stockham Legion Sunday was so wild that the two teams didn't bother to play the second game.

Tri-City got the best of the situation, defeating the St. Louis team 15-14 in eight innings. The second game was called off because of an argument which occurred in the seventh inning of the first game.

What made the first game so wild? The two teams combined for 28 hits in the game, made numerous physical and mental errors, and used eight pitchers—five by Tri-City.

Tri-City, trailing 11-3 after 5 1/2 innings, scored 11 runs in the sixth inning to take a 14-11 lead only to have Stockham tie the game in the seventh. To top all that, both coaches and fans of the Stockham team became involved in an argument which led Tri-City manager Al Yount and Stockham manager Dave Moore to cancel the second game.

The argument began after Darren DePew tagged out a runner at third base. Stockham argued DePew was late with the tag and continued to argue for several minutes.

Tri-City's winning run was anticlimactic, yet typical of the caliber of play in Sunday's game. Dave Modrusic ran for George Jarvis, who had walked, and Tom Newton hit a single.

Mill Roe attempted a bunt and missed, but the catcher overthrew the pitcher to allow Modrusic and Newton to advance. The pitcher tried to pick off Modrusic, but the ball went into the Tri-City dugout and Modrusic scored the winning run.

The Triplets pulled the almost impossible two innings earlier with its 11-run inning. Tri-City put together six singles and doubles by Jim Greenwald, Daily to take the lead. Mixed in with the hits were four walks and a hit batter.

Tri-City dominated the pitching so much that every player batting in the Triplets line-up that inning scored at least once.

"We knew their starting pitcher was the strongest one they had, and sooner or later he would give out," Yount said. "I didn't think we were going to score that many. After that pitcher, they're pretty weak."

There was another incentive for Tri-City to come back.

We didn't give up because we had beat them twice before and they had mouthed off to us at that game. I knew we wouldn't quit."

Yount didn't go with the usual Tri-City line-up against Stockham. Yount gave DePew a rest from his catching duties and put him at third and moved Daily from third to shortstop. Joe Schnefke played catcher.

Besides the change in the infield, Yount wanted to give his younger pitchers a chance. Tom McGowan started the game, Bob Kirksey took over in the third, Tom Newton replaced Kirksey in the fourth, Darrell Harris pitched the seventh, and Mike Zukas pitched the eighth and earned the victory.

Just the night before, Zukas pitched a one-hitter for six innings against Cahokia before tiring and putting runners on to set up Cahokia's 5-3 comeback win.

"McGowan hadn't thrown in a start this season, and I wanted to see what he could do. I was kind of upset at first with the runs they were getting, but having an inexperienced catcher in there makes a difference too," Yount said.

Schnefke was 3-for-4, Rich Buer and Danny Patterson were both 2-for-3, and John Linhart and Newton were both 2-for-4 for Tri-City.

The Triplets, 6-3 overall and 3-3 in District 22 play, hosts Alton tonight at 8 p.m. and travels to Bethalto Tuesday for a 6 p.m. game.

Pitching hinders Tri-City

GRANITE CITY—It seems Tri-City American Legion's pitching can last for five or six innings, but it can't go the whole seven innings.

Both Mike Zukas and George Diak pitched excellent baseball for five or six innings against Cahokia and East Alton respectively, but neither could pitch the distance and the Triplets settled for a pair of District 22 losses instead.

Cahokia defeated Tri-City 5-3 Saturday in Cahokia and East Alton upset the Triplets 7-6 Thursday at Granite City.

Zukas suffered the bigger heart-breaker of the two battles. Zukas had an one-hitter going for six innings, but his arm cooled last the distance. A blown grounder to third while Zukas was in proved costly for reliever Darrell Harris, who took the loss. Cahokia put together four straight hits, including a three-run home run capped Cahokia's five-run seventh.

Rich Buer had two RBIs in the first inning with a double and George Jarvis had the other RBI with a double.

Almost the same thing happened to Diak against East Alton. Diak had shut out going for five innings, and East Alton scored all seven of its runs in the sixth inning.

"It looks like we're having problems holding them in just one inning," Tri-City manager Al Yount said.

Tri-City is 3-3 in District 22 play this season.

Civics return from Clarinda 1-3

CLARINDA, IOWA—The weekend looked real rosy for the members of the Southwestern Illinois Civics baseball team as they defeated the Clarinda Athletics, 11 to 10, in a wild and woolly baseball game here in western Iowa near the Nebraska border.

From that high point on it was all downhill for the Civics as they lost the Saturday nightcap, 13-7, and then dropped a pair Sunday.

Wentend lost in the fourth and himself was relieved by Deml in the sixth. Big Jerry posted his third victory of the season to go with three saves.

In Saturday's second game, Clarinda romped over the Civics, 13-7, as Jeff Gass felt behind, 7-0, after four frames. However, the hard-hitting Civics rallied to score four in the fifth and three in the sixth, but Gass couldn't hold them and even Deml was treated roughly by the A's.

Homers by Darrell

Wehrend (solo in the sixth) and a two-run blast by Keith Hoskinson were wasted by the Civics in the second game Saturday night.

The Civics' first game loss Sunday at Red Oak, Iowa, saw the locals waste a two-run homer by Jack Scarborough, two solo four-batters by Jim Greenwald, and a solo homer by Darrell Wehrend. Tom Hanson, making his second start for this Civics, was treated roughly for the five frames he worked and was charged with all nine of the winner's runs.

In this game, however, the Civics got their first good look at Tim Rakers, a stubby (5'9") right-hander from Belleville who held the Oaks scoreless the final three innings of the game.

Sunday's 7-6 loss to Clarinda in the second game was a real heartbreaker as the Civics' Keith Harper, a mound standout for the SIUE Cougars this past spring, tossed 16 innings before losing.

It looked like a cakewalk for the Civics as they jumped out to a 6-1 lead in five innings, but suddenly their bats cooled off. Rusty Hilgenkamp unloaded a four-bagger in the third, but when they put together a three-run rally, the Civics appeared ready to even the series.

Tim Gamble singled to lead off the fourth. He stole second and Bill Stote coaxed a walk. Jim Greenwald also walked, and Wehrend sacrificed Gamble home. Keith Hoskinson, still on a hitting spree, singled sharply to left scoring Stote. Hilgenkamp lifted a long and lofty fly ball to right to score Greenwald for the first run of the frame.

Weyant, Smith pick up victories

BY JOE SENTER
Tony Weyant won the winged sprint car feature event Saturday night as Bo Smith racks up his sixth late model stock car feature of the year at the Tri-City Speedway in Granite City.

Weyant ran well all night in his No. 38 sprint car. The son of ex-race car driver Chuck Weyant also won his heat race to make it a clean sweep. He started the 20-lap event on the front row outside of Bob Kammerer of Ottawa, Ill.

Kammerer took the lead at the green flag and held on until the second lap when the young and talented Weyant took over.

Wednesday night's $2000 feature race was won by Pat McKeehan, looked like he was charging for the lead when something turned loose in turn three on-lap four and threw him into the guard rail at the same time D. Archer went out in turn two. Kammerer also won his heat race.

Bo Smith seems to be the top dog at Tri-City this year as he collected his sixth feature event in seven starts in his Smith "super fly" 1982 Firebird No. B-7 with a Smith built 450 cubic inch engine.

Smith also took his heat. In the 20-lap event he started front row outside of Dick Taylor of Springfield, Ill.

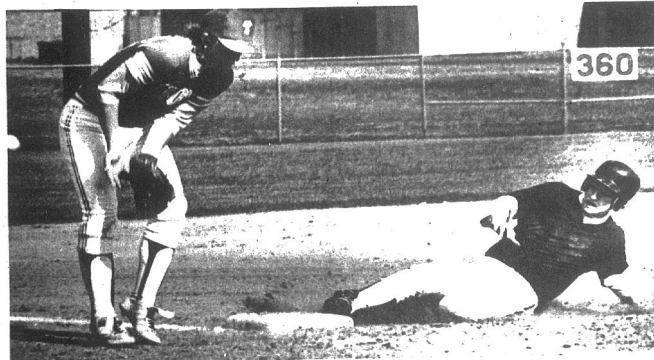

Fred Strube and Gary Wilson went out on lap 13 in turn three when something turned loose on Kenny Schraders new 1982 Mustang while he was making a bid for second place and slowed suddenly. They had nowhere to go and crashed.

Next Saturday night Kevin Gundaker and Bo Smith will have a match race. Also starting weekly will be street stock cars and mini sprints with midgate joining the field on July 3rd.

On July 5th the All Star Circuit of Champions sprint cars will come to town. For more information call Dennis Scott at 618-797-6579.

Junior Legionnaires drop double header to Troy

GRANITE CITY — If learning from mistakes is a virtue, the Granite City Junior American Legion baseball team should be one of the most virtuous teams in the area. Saturday afternoon the juniors dropped both games of a double header with Troy 10-2 and 14-2. The loss drops their record to 0-4.

In both games, the juniors kept pace with an older and much larger Troy team until the fourth innings, when a few, untimely errors enabled Troy to put the game out of reach.

"We're a young team," said Kevin Sykes, junior legion coach. "We may not win very many games, but we're gonna teach the kids some things and hopefully they'll be better next year from it."

Junior American Legion rules specify that players can not be 19 years of age by Aug. 1. Most of the Granite City juniors are considerably younger than that.

"I think our average age is 15 years," Sykes said. "We've got three (high school) juniors at 16, five sophomores at 15, and all the rest but two are freshmen. The other two are just out of the eighth grade," Sykes said.

Those two, Sykes said, are Eric Gray and Matt Roe. Gray, who relieved pitcher Tom Stegemeyer in the first game, displayed considerable talent for someone his age. Roe, the younger brother Granite City South's Mill Roe, played second base in the second game.

In the first game, Troy batters tagged Stegemeyer for three first innings hits to go ahead 1-0.

In the second inning, Granite City tied the game up when John Konkovich tripled in Mike Sikora who reached on a hit pitch. The game remained tied at 1-1 until the final four innings when Troy put the game away with two runs in the fourth, three in the fifth one in the sixth and three more in the seventh.

The Granite City juniors managed their second run in the fourth inning when Konkovich, who reached on a walk, stole second and third, then scored on an error by Troy third baseman Bob Barker.

"We're having our problems in the fourth inning," Sykes said. "It's seems we lose our concentration during and after the fourth. We were in both games until then," Sykes said.

In the second game, Kelly Krauze started for the juniors. Mark Vanyo relieved Krauze in the fourth, pitching three and a half innings until Lance Parker relieved Vanyo in the seventh. Afterwards, Len Sues, Troy's coach praised the younger Granite City club.

"These guys are visibly younger, but they played some tough baseball. I was impressed with them," Sues said. "They're gonna give some of the guys we beat file."

Troy's victory raised their record to 6-1.

Lang attributes success to hard work

Harry Lang, Granite City High School North's boy's track and field coach, attributes the quality of the Midwest Meet of Champions held early this month in Fort Wayne, Ind., to the Illinois' representatives hard work.

ROUSER CHARTERS

GOT THE BIG ONES. Three Granite City men, Phil Hogan, Mick Murphy and Tom Welch, on a recent fishing trip to Lake Michigan caught all the Lake Trout and all the Catfish they could handle. Above the three Granite City Steel employees display 175 pounds of a day's catch.

Along with four assistants, Lang coached the boy's and girl's state teams after the qualifying meet was held in Champaign and the top competitors from the state were chosen.

While the qualifier was an open meet with everyone competing for himself, the Midwest Meet of Champions was comprised of actual teams from Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. Even though Illinois finished fourth with 96 points, Lang said the team was in contention until the end. Times were amazingly close, Lang said.

For instance, the winner in the mile finished with a time of 4:07.0. The third place finisher, from Illinois, came in at 4:10.0. "It was phenomenally fast," he said. "All the track events were like the mile with the leader setting the pace and the others in hot pursuit."

Lang said that last year Illinois did not have a qualifying meet, but this year the coaches gathered together and decided the best way to pick the top track and field stars would be through a qualifier.

"At the team meeting I told them to work with the same workouts they had prior to district or state whichever they felt helped them the most," he said. The team (both boys and girls) did not get together again until they arrived in Fort Wayne.

"The intensity of this team was what enthused me the most," he said. Their intensity to win was phenomenal. They asked, 'what do I have to do to win.'"

Lang said each competitor performed at or above his state championship meet mark.

"It was a quality meet," he said of the regional event.

Women's intercollegiate soccer at SIUE

EDWARDSVILLE — Soccer, long the most popular sport on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus, has become the latest sport to join the ranks of intercollegiate competition for the expanding women's athletic department.

Athletic Director Ed Bigham has announced that SIUE has elevated last year's club soccer team to a full intercollegiate sport, while dropping women's field hockey from intercollegiate status.

Bigham also announced that Lori Stark, who last year led the club team to a 6-2 record, would coach the newest member of the SIUE athletic family. Stark will also continue her role as head coach of the women's track and field team.

In conjunction with the announcements, Bigham and Stark revealed the first-ever SIUE women's soccer schedule for 1982. The 1982 slate, which includes three tournaments and five home games, kicks off Sept. 11 when the Cougars travel to Lindenwood College for the two-day Lindenwood Tournament.

The Cougars first-ever home game is set for Sept. 14 when they host the University of Missouri-Rolla in a 7 p.m. contest. Sept. 24, the Cougars will open their second tournament of the season as they travel to the University of Missouri-St. Louis for the two-day UM-SL Classic. The highlight of the road schedule includes a two-day tournament at the University of Central Florida in Orlando beginning Oct. 16.

Among the home contests this year at Cougar Field, SIUE will face Maryville College (Sept. 22), Lindenwood College (Oct. 6), the University of Missouri-St. Louis (Oct. 12), and Florissant Valley Community College (Oct. 30) in the season finale.

1982 Women's Soccer Schedule
Sept. 11-12, Lindenwood College Tournament; Sept. 14, University of Missouri-Rolla (home); Sept. 22, Maryville College (home);

Sept. 24-25, University of Missouri-St. Louis Tournament; Sept. 29, Florissant Valley Community College (home); Oct. 6, Lindenwood College (home); Oct. 9, University of Illinois; Oct. 12, University of Missouri-St. Louis (home); Oct. 16-17, Central Florida Tournament; Oct. 20, University of Missouri-Rolla; Oct. 23, Quincy College; Oct. 27, Maryville College; Oct. 30, Florissant Valley Community College (home).

Amputee tourney slated for Arlington

GRANITE CITY — The Amputee Golf Association's 22nd annual Missouri-Illinois tournament is slated for Saturday, June 26, at Arlington Golf Course in Granite City.

There will be three categories this year, one for leg amputees, another for arm amputees and still another for guests of amputees who wish to compete.

Entry fees for the tournament is $20 per person. The fee covers time on the course and a dinner which will follow. Trophies will be awarded to the first three places in each category. Tee off time is 11 a.m.

Persons wishing to register or need more information should call Elmer Mowry at (314) 272-5630.

Largest prize pool is offered

Sometime this summer, up to seven more players will win $100,000 instantly in an Illinois State Lottery $1 instant game. And players winning instant prizes of $25 or $50 will have a chance to win $1 million.

"Wildcard follows the most popular instant game in almost five years, offering an even easier way to play for $100,000 top instant prizes in one of the easiest instant games ever offered and, once again, topping the previous game with the largest prize pool yet," Lottery Supt. Michael J. Jones said Friday.

The new instant game offers nearly $1 million more in prizes, or total prizes of $9.8 million, including the $1 million grand prize.

According to Jones, there are 14 winning combinations in Wildcard.

"All the player needs to win are three of a kind or two of a kind and a joker," he explained, noting "the game's bonus feature" not only doubles the player's chances of winning but adds to the excitement of instant lottery play.

Chances of winning a prize in this game are better than one in four tickets. Tickets for Wildcard will be available statewide by today.

To play Wildcard, the player scratches off an overlay on the ticket, revealing seven cards. If three identical cards, or a matched pair and a joker, are uncovered then the player wins a prize in the amount shown on that winning combination.

For example, players who find three tens, or two tens and a joker, win $1. Prizes range from a free ticket to $2, $5, $25, $50, $1,000 and $100,000.

Winners of $25 and $50 prizes must file a claim within 30 days of the announcement of the game to be eligible for the preliminary $1 million grand prize selection.

Of the seven who qualify for final competition at the game's end, one will win $1 million and become the 36th Illinois lottery millionaire. The remaining qualifiers will win $15,000 in second to fourth place, and $10,000 in fifth to seventh place.

Prizes for winning tickets up to $50 can be collected at any licensed sales agent. Winning tickets for prizes of $1,000 can be claimed at any authorized claim center. Players with $100,000 winning tickets are to get further instructions for filing their claims by calling 800-255-9666.

Supt. Jones said instant game sales are up 51.8 percent for 11 months of this fiscal year, July 1981-May 1982, and weekly sales of instant games are up from $1.5 million to $2.4 million a week since the introduction three months ago of $100,000 top prizes in the then "lucky numbers" instant game.

Eleven-month sales of all lottery games were $300 million, a 54.8 percent increase over sales of $194 million for the same period last year.

Nearly $127 million in lottery profit has been returned so far this fiscal year to help support education and other human service programs through the state's general revenue fund, 58.3 percent above the $80 million contributed in the same period a year ago.

Players won more than $140 million during 11 months of fiscal 1982, or 33.3 percent more than the $92 million won in the same period last year.

Jones said this was the first time in lottery history that $100,000 instant prizes were offered and "the search is on for more players who can win these top instant prizes in the Wildcard game."

"Wildcard will be carried into the start of the next fiscal year in July."

Laborers endorse Thompson

Governor James R. Thompson has received the endorsement of leaders of the Laborers' International Union of North America, which represents 21,500 working men and women in Illinois.

Local endorsements came from Jerry Wray, business manager of Local 520, International Union of Operating Engineers, Granite City, and Roland Bruning, business manager of the Southwestern Illinois Laborers' District Council, Edwardsville.

"There's no question that Governor Thompson is the best man for the job. He has kept in touch with the needs of Illinois workers and has kept the lines of communication open. Jim Thompson is a man we can trust — a man who has worked with both labor and business for the good of the entire state," Wilbur Freitag, third international vice president and regional manager of the union, said. Thompson accepted the endorsement and promised to continue to work toward bettering Illinois' economic climate.

"In Illinois, business, labor and government have formed a united front — an unprecedented partnership — to keep our state moving toward economic recovery. All the people of Illinois benefit from this willingness to pull together. And, in the end, working together, we will win the fight against recession," he said.

York Rite Masons to install Thursday

The York Rite Bodies of Granite City will install officers for the ensuing year on Thursday, June 24, 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 29th Street and Cleveland Boulevard. Members, master masons, families, and friends are invited to the ceremony and reception. The Bodies are comprised of Granite City Chapter 221 Royal Arch Masons, St. Clair Council 61 Royal and Select Masters, and Emmanuel Commandery 81 Knights Templar.

The presiding officers to be installed are Ellis N. Hackney Jr., Granite City, as excellent high priest of the chapter, Jimmy E. Stuart, Granite City, as thrice illustrious master of the council, and Paul J. Hertzberg of Collinsville, as eminent commander of the Commandery.

Installing officers will be Wilbur Hamilton of Godfrey, past district deputy grand high priest, who will install chapter officers; Ed Lane of Granite City, most illustrious past grand master, who will install council officers; and Chester Owings of Alton, eminent grand generalissimo, to install commandery officers. The installing Marshal will be Everett Watson of Alton, most illustrious past grand master, and the installing chaplain will be Charles E. Worthen Jr. of Belleville, illustrious grand conductor of the council. The installing secretary will be Richard Barnett of Collinsville, district deputy grand high priest.

The York Rite is an extension and elaboration of the teachings of the symbolic or Blue Lodge Freemasonry. Completion of the York Rite or Scottish Rite is one of the requirements of becoming a Shriner. A man may become eligible for membership in a Masonic Lodge by filing a petition signed by two members of that lodge, according to the announcement.

Task force meetings on tax problems scheduled

The Tax Reform Commission, appointed by Governor James Thompson to undertake a fundamental reassessment of the state and local tax structure of Illinois, has scheduled task force meetings on specific areas for the remainder of the month.

On Monday, June 21 at 10 a.m., the task force will meet in Suite 1016, 10 N. LaSalle, Chicago, to discuss excise and consumption taxes.

Individual income taxation will be the subject of the meeting Tuesday, June 22, in the second floor conference room, 225 S. College, Springfield, at 10 a.m. The following day, June 23, the task force also will meet in the conference room to consider occupation and use taxes at 10 a.m.

The final meeting of the month is scheduled for June 23 at 2 p.m. and property tax reliance will be the topic. The meeting also will be held in the second floor conference room.

The Tax Reform Commission makes recommendations for tax reform to the governor and conducted its first meeting May 26 in Chicago.

The task forces will assemble research information on each area studied. A full report of the commission is expected to be completed in December.

Zoning hearing on topsoil mining site

The Madison County Board of Zoning Appeals will have an on-site meeting at 11:10 a.m., June 29 in order to consider a special use permit for utilization of about 100 acres for surface mining of topsoil.

The land is located in the general manufacturing district in Nanticoke Township. It can be reached from the Madison city limits by taking Route 303, toward East St. Louis, turning left onto Bond Road, and then right onto an old road. The land is located several hundred feet after the entrance to the property, which is north and south of the roadway.

After this on-site public hearing, the Board of Appeals will reconvene in the offices of the Madison County Building and Zoning Department in Edwardsville to render its recommendation, which must be acted upon by the Madison County Board at its July meeting.

County gets $128,000

Counties in Illinois have been allotted $279,000, except for Cook County, which has been allotted $3,273,551 as their share of motor fuel tax funds paid into the state treasury during May, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Madison County has been allotted $128,293 for their highway needs.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various counties in Illinois for their highway needs. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of motor vehicle registration fees. Cook County receives 11 percent of the total funds available.

Illinois townships and road districts have been allotted $3,106,523 as their share of motor fuel taxes during May, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Madison County has also been allotted $8,472.82 dollars.

These motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various townships and road districts for their highway needs. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of mileage in the individual townships and road districts. These units of government must levy a tax for road and bridge purposes to be eligible for motor fuel tax allocations.

Illinois municipalities have been allotted $9,617 dollars as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the State Treasury during May, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Granite City has been allotted $6,928 dollars. Madison has been allotted $5,932 dollars and Venice has been allotted $4,490 dollars. Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population.

County drug crackdown continuing despite controversy

Amid all the controversy over Madison County grand jury anti-drug procedures, it is encouraging to note the unanimous vote at the June 16 meeting of the County Board.

The board decided to ban sale of drug paraphernalia. This alone will not stamp out drug abuse, but it is a step in that direction.

What the new ordinance does is ban the stocking or selling of items "which that person knows, or under all circumstances reasonably should have known, to be drug paraphernalia."

It authorizes fines of $25 to $100 for each such item found to be offered or sold.

Persons 18 years of age or older convicted of delivering drug paraphernalia to persons 17 or younger will be subject to a mandatory sentence of 30 days to six months in the county jail and a mandatory fine of $500. For each subsequent conviction, a minimum jail term of 90 days and a $500 fine are mandated.

The county ordinance exempts items intended for preparing cannabis (marijuana) or other controlled substances for research or other lawful purposes, and items for the cultivation, processing or use of tobacco.

The new law provides lengthy, detailed guidelines for judges or juries to follow in determining whether an item is exempt from the ordinance, including customary or historical use, written or oral instructions included with the sale, and the manner or circumstances under which an item is displayed for sale.

State Attorney Donald Weber says he does not know how many "head shops" may be affected; "we haven't started looking for them yet."

He says it is unclear whether the law is effective within cities, some of which—such as Granite City—have their own drug paraphernalia laws, or only in rural areas of the county.

Weber believes some businesses clearly intend the items they sell to be used with illicit drugs, while others do not, and some are "in between."

He has been urging adoption of the law, and is ready, willing and able to prosecute violators.

As to the war of words between the Tri-City Bar Association and this county's elected prosecutor, a partial reaction includes praise and criticism of both.

State Attorney Weber was wrong in his sweeping condemnation of the Bar group, scoring the members as drunkards. And he may have been injudicious in requiring grand jury testimony by teenagers who could be vulnerable to violent retaliation by drug pushers. Even such an authority as Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner is aware of the peril; he has called narcotics "a big business in Illinois, with enormous profits."

But Weber is right in according the anti-drug campaign high priority, and in trying to get the county board actively concerned about the massive abuse.

The Tri-City Bar is correct in seeking to call attention to the importance of individual rights, and in not outflanking more precisely its objections to the jury's tactics.

Left to guess what the Bar was trying to say, the public is hampered in responding to it.

The whole subject justifies more than an initial, instantaneous reaction to the fast-flying barbs, of course.

Aside from the merit or lack of merit of these two viewpoints, those of the lawyers and the prosecutor, we think it is important to recognize that the drug problem has been festering and growing in recent years without fully-effective countermeasures by either government or citizens.

Some schools for too long shrugged their shoulders, saying they could do little about drugs. The phrase "demoralized passivity" comes to mind, fairly or unfairly.

Schools and police have become more active in recent years, and arrests and suspensions have increased in frequency. But abuse of the law and of individual health continues at an unacceptably high volume.

Somebody had to try to do something. If what has been done involves unprofessionalism and grandstanding, as some local attorneys contend, it should be modified.

But fault-finders have an obligation to be constructive as well as critical. What could or should be done? A negative, unimaginative attitude is not good enough.

Far too many people are only giving "lip service" to the drug issue. Ignoring it is just talking about it, or not making it go away. An old saying comes to mind:

"When all is said and done, more is said than done."

Don Weber is known for "shooting from the hip," but he also is taking action and "standing up to be counted."

Drug-trained dogs are sniffing school lockers. Students are being questioned by jurors. These steps are highly controversial, as Weber says, there is no law or to withhold information about law violations, painful as that fact may be.

St. Clair County and the Illinois General Assembly currently are considering anti-paraphernalia laws, trailing Granite City and Madison County.

Some Madison Countyans think they have been experiencing extreme enforcement tactics, consider East St. Louis, where the law is "Against Drugs"—or "B" is in progress.

The "joint" effort of local, state and federal authorities is targeting 50 homes, as suspected havens for drug dealers and fugitives. Many of the residences are fortified with steel doors, steel-barred windows and other devices to prevent entry. "Intouchables" are going after them with crowbars and battering rams.

Ronald Grimming, director of the operation and an Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation regional commander, said people in the homes have been selling marijuana, cocaine, amphetamines and barbiturates for distribution in this region.

At some of the residences, there are drive-up mirror-windows in which customers cannot see who is making the drug sale. One home has an escape tunnel leading to another building, which cannot be entered without a separate search warrant. Some drugs are kept in cloth soaked in a flammable liquid; at the first sign of a police raid, the evidence goes up in flames.

Many of these drug dealers are thought to have the same "wholesale" supplier, as suggested by alleged volume of activity, he obviously is rich and powerful.

How tough and resourceful must police and prosecutors be? Evidently as tough and resourceful as those breaking the law.

If Madison County must invent its way to a drug solution or partial solution, we would like to see the Tri-City Bar be it innovative and suggest ways that a victory over drug abuse can be achieved.

We did not see that kind of constructive discussion in its negative, overly brief resolution.

A lot at stake. County advocate of a more intensive crackdown expresses it. "The drug culture is destroying the basic fabric of life in America."

Unfunded obligations have climbed from $401 million to $1,389 billion, a rise of $988 million.

The fund of the Illinois Retirement System—Funding has improved, but lower contributions in '82 and '83 may offset the gains. Assets are at $4.3 percent. Unfunded debt has grown from $469 million to $1.11 billion, up $642 million during the decade.

Judges Retirement System—it has the lowest funding rate, 36.1 percent, of the five. Even so, this is the highest rate for that fund in the last ten years. Its unfunded figure is $127.3 million, up $84 million since 1972.

General Assembly Retirement System—Assets in 1972 were 61.7 percent of liabilities but since have declined to 47.3 percent, although the system received in full its requested funding until 1968-81. The unfunded obligation is $18.3 million, compared to $4.4 million a decade ago.

The fund of the Illinois pension systems is not only well below recommended levels but, in the year now ending, did not meet the minimum statutory requirement.

Our state's duties—and debt—cannot be ignored in this fashion indefinitely without harmful effects.

News notes

Consensus sought on environmental issues

The Illinois Environmental Consensus Forum is now staffed and ready for business.

The Forum is an experimental method to resolve environmental disputes. It is a three-year project funded, in part, by a grant from the Joyce Foundation of Chicago and housed in the University of Illinois' Institute of Government and Public Affairs.

It was established in 1981 as an alternative means for resolving environmental disputes outside the courts, legislature or regulatory bodies.

The Forum cannot impose a decision on participants but, instead, helps them to develop ground rules for discussion, clarify different perspectives, design options, solve specific problems, and formulate mutually acceptable agreements.

The services are available to citizens and environmental organizations, business and trade associations, labor unions, and units of government. Organizations and businesses throughout Illinois support the program.

Illinois Environmental Consensus Forum sponsors are the American Association of University Women, Audubon Council of Illinois, Central Illinois Light Co., Central Illinois Public Service Co., Chicago Lung Association, Citizens for a Better Environment, Commonwealth Edison, Deere & Co., R. Donnelley & Sons, Illinois

Coal Association, Illinois Environmental Council, Illinois Farm Bureau, Illinois Municipal League, Illinois Power Co., Illinois South Project, State Chamber of Commerce, Illinois Federation of Labor & Congress of Industrial Organizations, Interlake, Inc., Isaac Walton League, Joyce Foundation, League of Women Voters of Illinois, Open Lands Project, Rockwell International, A. E. Staley Manufacturing, Union Oil Company of California, United Mine Workers, United Steelworkers of America, and Waste Management, Inc.

Hunger strikers do not impress Forum writer

There has been a lot of talk about the three-fifths rule. Now that the deadline nears, we can expect this. The advocates want a simple majority. The U.S. Constitution has other ideas:

"Whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, they shall propose amendments. When ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, they shall become laws."

Bi-State OKs $81.7 million budget for transit system

The Bi-State Development Agency Board of Commissioners has voted to approve an $81.75 million operating budget for fiscal year 1983, which begins July 1, 1982. This represents a 10 percent reduction from the $83.3 million operating budget of last year. It includes no fare increase or major service reduction for the year.

Funding for transit system operation comes from federal funds, Missouri and Illinois transportation sales taxes, the state of Illinois and proceeds from the farebox. Farebox revenue is expected to be $24.1 million. The federal portion is expected to be $9 million, down from $14.5 million in FY'82.

St. Louis City and St. Louis County are expected to contribute $11.7 million and $10.2 million, respectively. The Illinois Department of Transportation is expected to provide about $6.8 million, Madison County $1.3 million, and St. Clair County $2.2 million. The remainder of the operating funds will be derived from miscellaneous income, such as Charter Service.

James S. Nations, chairman of Bi-State's board of commissioners, said "There is no question that public transportation is facing a serious crisis as federal operating dollars are cut back. But Bi-State management has done a commendable job of reducing expenses without the necessity for large service reductions or fare increases in the coming fiscal year."

Consensus sought on environmental issues

The Illinois Environmental Consensus Forum is now staffed and ready for business.

The Forum is an experimental method to resolve environmental disputes. It is a three-year project funded, in part, by a grant from the Joyce Foundation of Chicago and housed in the University of Illinois' Institute of Government and Public Affairs.

It was established in 1981 as an alternative means for resolving environmental disputes outside the courts, legislature or regulatory bodies.

The Forum cannot impose a decision on participants but, instead, helps them to develop ground rules for discussion, clarify different perspectives, design options, solve specific problems, and formulate mutually acceptable agreements.

The services are available to citizens and environmental organizations, business and trade associations, labor unions, and units of government. Organizations and businesses throughout Illinois support the program.

Illinois Environmental Consensus Forum sponsors are the American Association of University Women, Audubon Council of Illinois, Central Illinois Light Co., Central Illinois Public Service Co., Chicago Lung Association, Citizens for a Better Environment, Commonwealth Edison, Deere & Co., R. There has been a lot of talk about the three-fifths rule. Now that the deadline nears, we can expect this. The advocates want a simple majority. The U.S. Constitution has other ideas:

"Whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, they shall propose amendments. When ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, they shall become laws."

Bi-State OKs $81.7 million budget for transit system

The Bi-State Development Agency Board of Commissioners has voted to approve an $81.75 million operating budget for fiscal year 1983, which begins July 1, 1982. This represents a 10 percent reduction from the $83.3 million operating budget of last year. It includes no fare increase or major service reduction for the year.

Funding for transit system operation comes from federal funds, Missouri and Illinois transportation sales taxes, the state of Illinois and proceeds from the farebox. Farebox revenue is expected to be $24.1 million. The federal portion is expected to be $9 million, down from $14.5 million in FY'82.

St. Louis City and St. Louis County are expected to contribute $11.7 million and $10.2 million, respectively. The Illinois Department of Transportation is expected to provide about $6.8 million, Madison County $1.3 million, and St. Clair County $2.2 million. The remainder of the operating funds will be derived from miscellaneous income, such as Charter Service.

James S. Nations, chairman of Bi-State's board of commissioners, said "There is no question that public transportation is facing a serious crisis as federal operating dollars are cut back. But Bi-State management has done a commendable job of reducing expenses without the necessity for large service reductions or fare increases in the coming fiscal year."

Most nationwide third of U.S. widows live below the poverty level. Women in the job market are no better off than they were at the turn of the century, according to a Carnegie corporation study.

A Department of Justice study, ordered by President Ford and funded by President Carter, shows widespread discrimination against women. The Equal Rights Amendment will protect all women wherever they live, whether they work as homemakers or at jobs.

The Greek and Hebrew heritage mingled in the Jewish-Christian tradition; because of St. Paul, a Greek Jew, the view of certain people as property was central to early Greek and Hebrew society. Women were property whether they were slaves, daughters or wives. St. Paul combined ancient Hebrew and Greek disparaging views about women into "wives, submit yourselves..." But Jesus treated women with equality and respect, even speaking to the Samaritan woman when social custom forbade man and woman to converse in public.

On "the subjection of women," John Stuart Mill wrote: "are we always so certain of finding a man for any duty or function of social importance which falls vacant, that we lose nothing by putting a ban on half of mankind and refusing before hand to make their faculties available, however degraded they may be?"

Written in 1869, it is true in the United States today, as 35 states wait for 38 states to join them in making the American democratic dream on which our country is based—League of Nations Amendment. Ratification deadline is June 30. Write to Governor James Thompson; your legislators; State House, Springfield, Illinois, 62806.

Says Stevenson a poor farmer

To the Editor: Congratulations to the Press-Record's 80th birthday. We have been reading the Press-Record since 1926, 46 years. I think Ed Campbell was the editor at that time. It was a good newspaper then and still is.

You have never played politics, but supported who you thought would be the best man for the job.

The Globe Democrat, June 14, states that Adlai Stevenson III is worth over five million dollars. About 24 times what Governor Thompson is worth, so he may be able to buy the governorship.

The article also said that Stevenson lost over $200,000 last year on his farm at Hartsville. If he is elected governor, sure hope he doesn't run the state like he did his farm.

County fund imbalance confirmed

By JIM SCHULTZ
Madison County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields' six-month budget report at last week's County Board meeting reaffirmed the gloomy prediction he made this spring.

After fiscal year 1982, December 1981-May 1982, Fields said he has evidence that the county will spend $12.5 million but only take in $11 million in revenue.

As he has told the board in past months, the county has fund balances and federal revenue sharing money to make up the deficit this year.

However, he also said that the reserves will be used up after this year, and if the county plans to use federal revenue sharing for capital improvements only, 1983 spending will have to match 1983 revenues.

"Our predictions came out exactly," Fields said.

"I'm not saying anything new in this report. I'm just confirming what had been said earlier."

Based on the mid-year data, Fields is projecting that the county will generate $11.3 million in revenue in fiscal year 1983.

County expenditures in 1982 are already $12.5 million, and that is without negotiated pay increases for 1983 and rising utility costs.

"The finance committee has a lot of work to do," Fields said. "The first step is preparing the (next year's) budget is determining what we anticipate to bring in."

"Now the county must look into each of the budgets and fit them into the revenue."

Fields' first warning came a few months ago when he said that fund balances used to rescue past budgets would be almost gone by the end of 1982.

Adding to the budget problem is the reluctance of board members to use future federal revenue sharing money for operating expenses.

With the possibility of reductions in federal revenue sharing, many board members say the federal money should be used only for capital expenditures or one-time expenditures.

Fields' first prediction resulted in a plan by Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer which called for all county departments to find ways to cut their budgets for 1983.

The county's finance committee has heard from the departments and will present its findings at a special board meeting June 28.

YMCA changing its image to discourage transients

By NANCY WEIL

The Granite City YMCA has initiated some changes as part of a concerted effort to upgrade its image to attract more permanent residents in its living quarters.

The YMCA's Board of Directors met recently and decided to enact stricter policies in order to discourage transient dwellers, some of whom are undesirable, said David Femrite, executive director of the Tri-City Area YMCA.

Femrite said that the original purpose of the YMCA has been altered because of changing societal conditions.

"YMCA's erupted in large metropolitan areas. They started in England around the time of the Industrial Revolution. Large numbers of people who were accustomed to a slower pace (and had moved from rural to urban areas) found themselves all alone. They needed a place to fraternize with other men. They also needed a place that was cheap and clean," he said. Since then, "inflation has caused serious problems in terms of keeping things in line," Femrite said.

Another aspect of the change is the character of many transients. Femrite said that transients are often "undesirables." The YMCA recently has made a move toward more family-oriented programming and having such people milling about is not conducive to this change.

"They have no pride," Femrite said of some transient dwellers. This is because they often are not from the area.

"We want to serve people from the area," he said. Unfortunately, he noted, the YMCA "has developed a reputation for taking in anybody and everybody."

The change is effective immediately and room rates already have been increased from $15 per night to $25 per night. The monthly rate is $130. The cost includes clean linens and a furnished room, he said.

Along with the rate change, the YMCA will be more selective in determining who will be accepted to stay there, Femrite said.

GC zoning group endorses appeals

The Granite City Board of Appeals met June 9 at City Hall to discuss submitted appeals.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, 2221 State St., was granted initial approval to construct a utility shed within one foot of the property line at his home. Whitmer agreed to direct the drainage of the shed away from his neighbor's property. His neighbor gave written approval for the plan.

Dennis Honchak, 315 Wilson Park Lane, was granted initial approval to construct an attached garage one foot from the side property line of his residence. Mrs. Carol

Baptist youths attend rally

The National General Baptist guild rally at Camp Brasend, Newburg, Ind., was attended by three local youths, Crystal Nance, Tracy Phelps and Jamie Manitz, all of Mt. Zion General Baptist Church.

Mrs. Nadine Lancaster of the south side Baptist Church, St. Louis, accompanied them on the trip.

A business meeting was held and officers were elected to serve during the year. Each girl presented a talent of her own. It was noted.

Holy communion was given Sunday morning after which the group returned home.

Bill expanding Bi-State authority clears Senate

Legislation sponsored by Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) to expand and clarify the authority of the Bi-State Development Agency swept through the Illinois Senate, last week on a 53-0 vote.

The bill (HB-2304) puts Illinois in line with legislation already passed by the Missouri Legislature.

The states both must approve statutory changes for the development agency.

The bill allows Bi-State to develop industrial parks and parking facilities and gives the agency a higher interest rate for its bonds. Previously, the agency could pay a 10 percent interest rate on its bonds. The bill allows a 14 percent rate, which puts Bi-State at a more favorable position in the market place, Vadalabene said.

"The passage of this important bill will help this agency better serve the needs of the citizens in the St. Louis metropolitan area," Vadalabene said.

"I am proud that my legislative colleagues recognized the urgency of this matter and put it before the governor without delay."

"I expect that Governor James R. Thompson will see fit to sign the bill in a timely manner," the Senator added.

Bi-State operates bus service in St. Clair, Monroe and Madison Counties in Illinois. In Missouri, the agency operated in the city of St. Louis and in St. Louis, St. Clair, Franklin and Jefferson counties.

County authorizes payments for Brandon Heights sewers

By JIM SCHLUETER
The Madison County Special Service Area One sewer district will spend $70,000 to pay for easements to move the sewer line in the Brandon Heights Subdivision, according to a resolution passed at last week's Madison County Board meeting.

Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith said that the district acquired the easements to years ago, when the property was mostly farmland. However, the committee didn't have the money to record the easements at that time. When the land was later sold and the subdivision was built, the new property owners wanted compensation for the sewer lines, which they had found were literally in their back yards. The people took the county to court and won a settlement, because the easements were not recorded, Smith said. The court order said that the easements have to be paid for, or the sewer line moved.

Smith recommended that the district acquire the easements to years ago, when the property was mostly farmland. However, the committee didn't have the money to record the easements at that time. When the land was later sold and the subdivision was built, the new property owners wanted compensation for the sewer lines, which they had found were literally in their back yards. The people took the county to court and won a settlement, because the easements were not recorded, Smith said. The court order said that the easements have to be paid for, or the sewer line moved.

Board Member Louis Whitsell of Pontoon Beach disagreed with Smith. Whitsell, who resigned from the sewer committee as its chairman last year, contended that the sewer contractor and engineer were at fault for building the sewer system without making sure the necessary easements were obtained. Whitsell said the engineer and contractor should pick up some of the costs of moving the line or of acquiring the correct easements. He tried to table the resolution until some legal options could be studied.

In another matter relating to Special Area Number One, the county approved a resolution recommending that the sewer district hire its own attorney. Smith had been representing the sewer district for more than a year, but now that the project is nearly completed, Smith

Puzzles aid those who sit and wait

"Surgery Suite — Do Not Enter." When someone you love goes through those mysterious doors on a stretcher, it seems all contact with the outside world goes with them. The family is shown to a carefully decorated waiting room, a room serene and comfortable where you can worry without interruption. In a place free of distraction, the mind becomes very active and can even turn minor fears into major catastrophes.

Pat Winter, volunteer hostess in the Surgery Waiting Area at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, saw this happening to people and wondered how she could make the waiting a little easier.

The following week she came to work armed with playing cards, checkers and a jigsaw puzzle. The checkers and cards went unnoticed, but when she started a puzzle on the table in the middle of the room, she knew she had hit on something that worked.

Pat reported that to pass time, someone would show a mild interest in the puzzle, and in a few minutes, two or three more will gather around, actively searching out the missing pieces. It seems to make the time go faster and the waiting less difficult.

When a puzzle is finished, Pat takes it home to glue it together and it begins its next cycle — a welcome wall decoration for the Pediatrics playroom.

Mrs. Winter is one of SEMC's 125 volunteers, people of all ages from all walks of life who bring energy, ideas and concern to the patients and associates of the Medical Center.

Federal budget delay is hampering Madison County Housing Authority

By PAIGE ST. JOHN

Six months into its fiscal year, the Madison County Housing Authority is still operating without an approved budget and without all of its federal funding. The Housing Authority received its first 1982 check from HUD this month, treasurer-secretary Jackie Bone told the Housing Authority board at its June meeting.

Janet Harison said she does not know how long the money will last, and the Housing Authority will continue to hold back on as many costs as it can until it receives more. "We're taking it carefully,"

The delay, housing director Janet Harison said, is caused while Congress hammers out its 1982-83 budget for the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Until HUD has a budget, and funds, the Housing Authority must do without, she said. The county fiscal year Dec. 1, the U.S. fiscal year starts Oct. 1.

The County Housing Authority received $137,000 from HUD this month, treasurer-secretary Jackie Bone told the Housing Authority board at its June meeting.

not making any maintenance expenditures until we know for sure we've got more money coming," she said. The Authority requested $1,248,410 from HUD in a trimmed-down budget submitted in April.

With no money other than rent receipts coming in to support its costs, the Authority has had to cash in a number of its investments. She said the recent check from HUD helps, but she is not sure if it will last until a budget is approved. "Is it enough? It will have to be enough," she remarked.

The director informed Authority commissioners at the meeting that no word has been sent back on a fair housing plan submitted to HUD in March. HUD had requested the plan to help desegregate the authority's housing.

HUD has requested that the Authority bring the racial mix in all of its housing within 15 percent of the total racial mix in housing throughout the county.

The fair housing department of HUD has sent no reply back to the Authority's plan, Miss Harison told the board, because of a renovation tie-up in its computerized typing system.

A reply is expected in the next few weeks.

In other business, the board approved the seating of a new member, Tom Laffier, to replace commissioner Richard Hunter.

Hunter's June 6 resignation was read aloud at the meeting and was accepted with regrets.

Laffier, an Edwardsville resident, is an administrative assistant to the SIUE university president.

Hazardous intersections, lights discussed at June township meeting

At the Nameoki Township meeting June 14, a letter was read from Dale Klorer, the district engineer, regarding two hazardous intersections in the area. On Maryville Road and Drive a hedge on private property protrudes and on coming traffic cannot be seen, it was read. The other dangerous area is at the State Aid 35 and Arlington Road intersection. A canal bridge blocks the view of on coming traffic also.

A letter from the Madison County A.O.C. thanking the township for the HEAP program was read. The Miracle Manner Bellemore Street Lighting District sent a letter to the board describing how they are unable to meet the street lights high bills and are requesting assistance from the township to pay the bills. The Nameoki Township had already appropriated $2,000 in their budget for the bills if it was seen necessary. The Street Lighting District has not sent any bills to the township as of yet, it was said.

A letter from the Pontoon Beach Lions Club was read. The club donated $1,000 for the Senior Citizens. An elderly person is planned to be hired to direct the activities of the senior citizens. This person's job will also involve informing the senior citizens about what activities are available for them. The Nameoki Township voted and approved to donate $500 for the same cause. This money and the Lions Club money will both go toward the salary of the new director.

It was resolved to hire Oliver W. Schneider as the Certified Public Accountant from March 1, 1982 to February 28, 1983. Schneider will audit the books for the township.

The King Midget

Mike Dixon, owner of this 1964 King Midget, stands next to the little car (above) with its canvas roof in the raised position. Dixon's wife, Brenda, (at right) drives the midget car with its top down. Below at right, the King Midget's owner's manual and repair manual.

Car of the future — thing of the past

PEOPLE PEOPLE PEC

What has two seats, goes 50 miles per hour, gets 75 miles per gallon and is easy to drive? Considering the present economic conditions, probably everyone's dream car, but actually it's a 1964 King Midget automobile.

Mike Dixon, owner and operator of Dixon Heating, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration, is the proud and lucky owner of the 18-year-old midget car which he stumbled onto (no pun intended) during a repair call to a home in Venice.

When he first saw the tiny car parked in the garage at the home, he had an idea of using the peculiar little car as an advertising gimmick. He made an offer to buy the car on the spot and the owner, without much hesitation, agreed to sell it.

The King Midget car was designed and first manufactured in 1946 by two light-aircraft pilots and designers. Their idea was to produce a car which would have a long car life expectancy, would be lightweight for unbelievable gas mileage and could still be marketed at low cost.

With their knowledge of aircraft design, the two men, Claud Dry and Dale Orcutt, set out to do just that. The nine-foot-long car is powered by a Wisconsin 23 cubic inch, one cylinder, air-cooled engine producing just 9½ horsepower. With a top speed of 50 m.p.h., the car features a two-speed automatic transmission and a single lever to select either forward, neutral or reverse.

One way that the engineers kept production costs down was to use the same model design for more than a year. The 1946 model wasn't changed until 1951, with that model design used until only the third model change in 12 years was made in 1957.

Dixon said when he bought the car the odometer had registered only 435 miles. The former owner had driven it very little and eventually parked the car, soon after the purchase, in the garage where it was found. It apparently hadn't moved since that time. The midget cars were delivered to the buyer by the company via a flatbed truck with no mileage.

A new battery was installed in the car when it was purchased a few weeks ago and the engine started immediately. Dixon has been driving it around Granite City, adding more than 50 miles since the purchase.

Some of the features of the car, listed in the owner's manual and repair manual, include long life, effortless operation, famous Wisconsin engine, amazing economy, smooth roadability, precision engineered and styled for small car eye appeal.

The owner's manual also includes testimonials from King Midget owners who attest to getting up to 95 miles per gallon under ideal road conditions, and others taking trips in excess of 3,000 miles for less than $25 total operating costs.

The King Midget, promoted by the company as the "world's most exciting small car," is listed in the 1978 edition of the Guinness Book of World Records as one of the most inexpensive cars manufactured. The record book states that the car sold for as little as $100 as late as 1948. The cost of the 1964 model is not known.

St. Elizabeth demolishes building

St. Elizabeth Hospital recently purchased the building formerly housing the A.B.C. Electric Company located at 2101 Washington Avenue and then demolished it. "We had the building demolished but we don't have any definite plans for the vacant lot yet," commented Paul Hopper, plant supervisor from St. Elizabeth Hospital. "The land will probably be seeded." C.D. Peters demolished the A.B.C. Electric Company building for the hospital. Job cost the hospital approximately $11,000, Hopper said.

A.B.C. Electric Company has moved to 2914 Idaho in the home of Betty Bauer, owner of the company.

A.B.C. Electric Company was located at 2101 Washington Avenue since 1964.

Sidedressing garden crops

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser
Crops often need more fertilizer, especially nitrogen as the season progresses. And a wet period such as we experienced recently makes less nitrogen available.

Having sufficient nutrients available enables the garden crop to make most efficient use of the soil moisture that is present.

Sidedressing means applying fertilizer in a band along one side of the row. This band should be about four inches from the crop.

Avoid getting fertilizer on the plant leaves to prevent leaf injury. After applying, hoe the fertilizer into the soil surface, or water it in for more immediate response.

Leafy crops, greens and root crops should be sidedressed when about half grown. Tomatoes, peppers, beans, cucumbers, melons, etc., should be treated when they begin to set fruit.

Average rates to use per 1,000 square feet are 2½ pounds of ammonium nitrate, 2 pounds of urea, 5 pounds of nitrate of soda, or 10 pounds of 10-10-10.

Allen named project engineer

The appointment of Harold D. Allen as project engineer for National Engineers and Associates, St. Louis has been announced by Dr. Donald F. Cairns, president, NE&A.

Allen formerly served as subcontracting manager for NBE Corporation, St. Louis, and as manager, construction for General Engineering Company, St. Louis. As project engineer for National Engineers and Associates, he is responsible for design engineering, purchasing and construction management for NE&A projects.

Allen graduated from North Carolina State University in 1977 with a B.S. in Civil Engineering.

National Engineers and Associates, a wholly-owned unit of National Steel which was formed in January, 1980, is an international engineering, construction and management services organization. It provides full-service engineering, technical and consulting services.

Majewski vice-chairman of United Way's 1982 drive

Appointment of Tom Majewski, assistant manager, American Steel Foundries, as 1982 United Way campaign vice-chairman, was announced this week by Bill H. Terrell, president of the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

"As campaign vice-chairman, he will assist and coordinate the entire 1982 United Way drive under the direction of Roger Higgins, campaign chairman," Terrell said.

Majewski is a native of Evanston, Ill., and resides at 53 Glen Echo Drive, Glen Carbon.

He is a graduate of Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, where he received his bachelor of science degree in business administration. Post-graduate courses were taken at the Management Center, Cambridge, Mass., and the Washington University School of Continuing Education.

Fast chairman of the UW Budget and Allocations Committee, Majewski served on the Tri-Cities Area United Way executive committee as treasurer in 1977-1978.

His activities include many other civil and industrial organizations — chairman of the American Foundry Men's Society's St. Louis Chapter, secretary of the Steel Division of the American Foundrymen's Society, national organization, and members of the Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association, Tri-

TOM MAJEWSKI

Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, Steel Foundries Society of America, National Association of Accountants and the Amvets.

Terrell commented that "with Tom's background in the United Way and his past dedication to aggressively achieve a total community effort in United Way accomplishment, this appointment is well timed."

"I believe the combination of Roger Higgins as chairman and Tom Majewski as vice-chairman will help lead our community to achieve its highest campaigning potential."

George Pulianus also served as vice-chairman before advancing to the campaign chairmanship here in the 1970s.

June is plumbing month

Mayor Paul Schuler has signed a proclamation declaring June Professional Plumbing, Heating, Cooling Month in Granite City. Walter Aerne, president of AMSCO Plumbing and Heating, Jack Cook, secretary of the Plumbing and Heating Contractor's Association and Richard Kelley, business manager for Local 360, Plumbers and Gas Fitters Union witnessed the signing. The proclamation describes plumbing, pipefitting, heating and cooling as "ancient professions that have provided sanitation, fresh water, comfort and convenience since man began to gather in communities." It also declares that professional contractors in these fields "are the original ecologists." All citizens are being asked to join in giving recognition to the professional and special events planned for the month, the mayor noted.

Juveniles in burglary attempt

Two juveniles were taken into custody last week following an attempted break-in at the home of Mrs. Charles Wilson, 1935 Cleveland Blvd., who called police upon hearing knocking at the front door and a crashing sound at an upstairs window.

An officer arrived at the scene within 30 seconds of the dispatcher's call and said a youth was standing on a first story roof, adjacent to a window on the second floor.

Upon seeing the officer approach, the youth jumped to the ground, ran across an alley toward Benton Street and escaped.

A second youth, later found to be 12 years old, also ran from the scene and tried to hide by lying down and covering his face. He was discovered near a cyclone fence in the rear yard of a dwelling in the 1900 block of Benton.

The older youth, 16, was identified and taken into custody a short time later. Officers found a wooden casement window was open on the second floor of the Wilson residence and that a screening had been pushed in.

MOTORCYCLE-AUTO MISHAP ON INDIANA
Richard A. Dailey, 17, of 221 Wilson Park Drive, sustained an injury last week when the motorcycle he was riding collided with the rear of an auto, being backed from the driveway at 3001 Indiana Ave.

Driving the car was Anna M. Duley of the Indiana address, who said she failed to see the westbound cyclist.

Save for the silver lining.

There's an old song that advises you to look for the silver lining. Certainly a good piece of advice. But here's some better advice! Save for the silver lining.

Save enough to line those dark clouds. It's easy. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. On the Plan, you set aside a little each payday for Bonds. And that'll chase some gloom away, right off.

But if dark skies should appear, remember, Bonds can help you find the sunny side of life.

Take stock in America.

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds you're helping to build a brighter future for your country and for yourself.
